Cougar People

What qualities must one have to be a true Cougar?

1) Roaring School Spirit. Even when the odds are against us.

2) Ability to have a Good Time. A Cougar can always find excitement in everything he does.

3) Academic Motivation. A Cougar is always open to new experiences, challenges, changes, and opportunities.

He too will Let The Good Times Roll.

The Good Times

Looking into the smiling faces of our Cougars often makes an outsider wonder how they can be so happy. From schoolwork to social activities, the students of Como Park High School have an idea that as long as one tries, that's all that counts.

And spirit! The Cougars abound with spirit, whether we win or lose it's how we played the game. For Cougars are survivors, a proud and loyal breed. Color and creed hold no importance, for the status of a Cougar is superior to all others. Together we stand, one large family, where opposites are bound together by a common link.

Like a giant jigsaw puzzle, Como Park has many different shaped pieces, each of which fits into its own place and is an important part of the making of our school.

Cougars are great people who still possess the wild streak so evident in their feline counterparts. It's this streak that yearns for excitement and encourages the Cougars of Como Park to "Let the Good Times Roll."

Frolicking In The Sun

Summer. The three months you wait nine months for. But three months just isn't enough time to do all those summer activities. It seems summer just doesn't stay long enough in Minnesota, but we at Como strive to make the best of it.

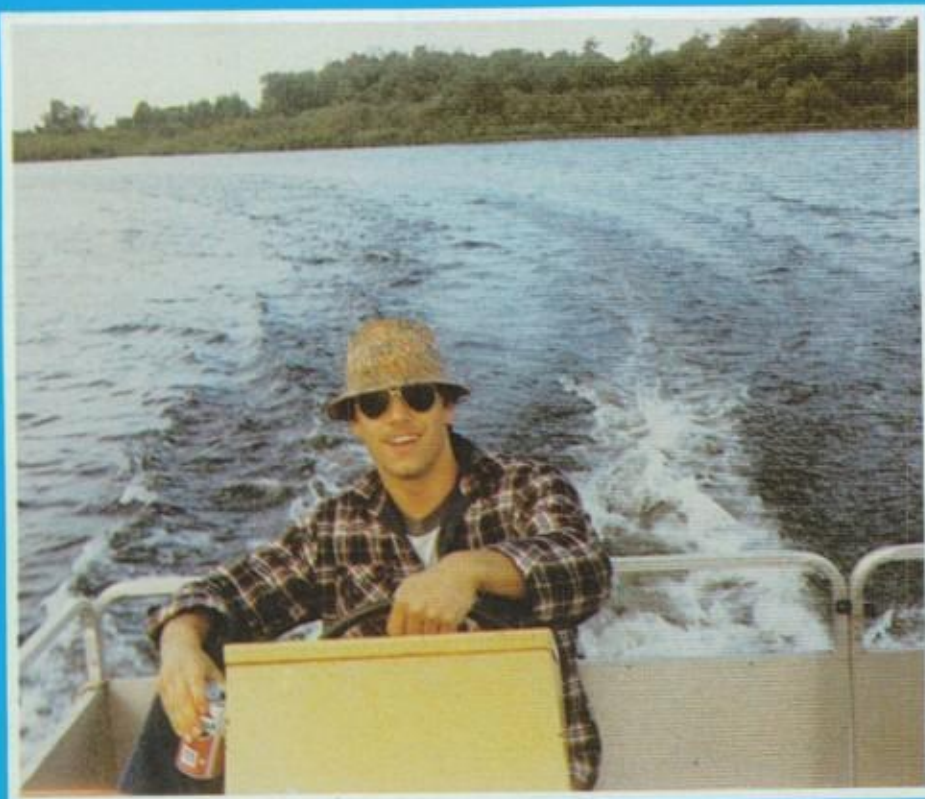

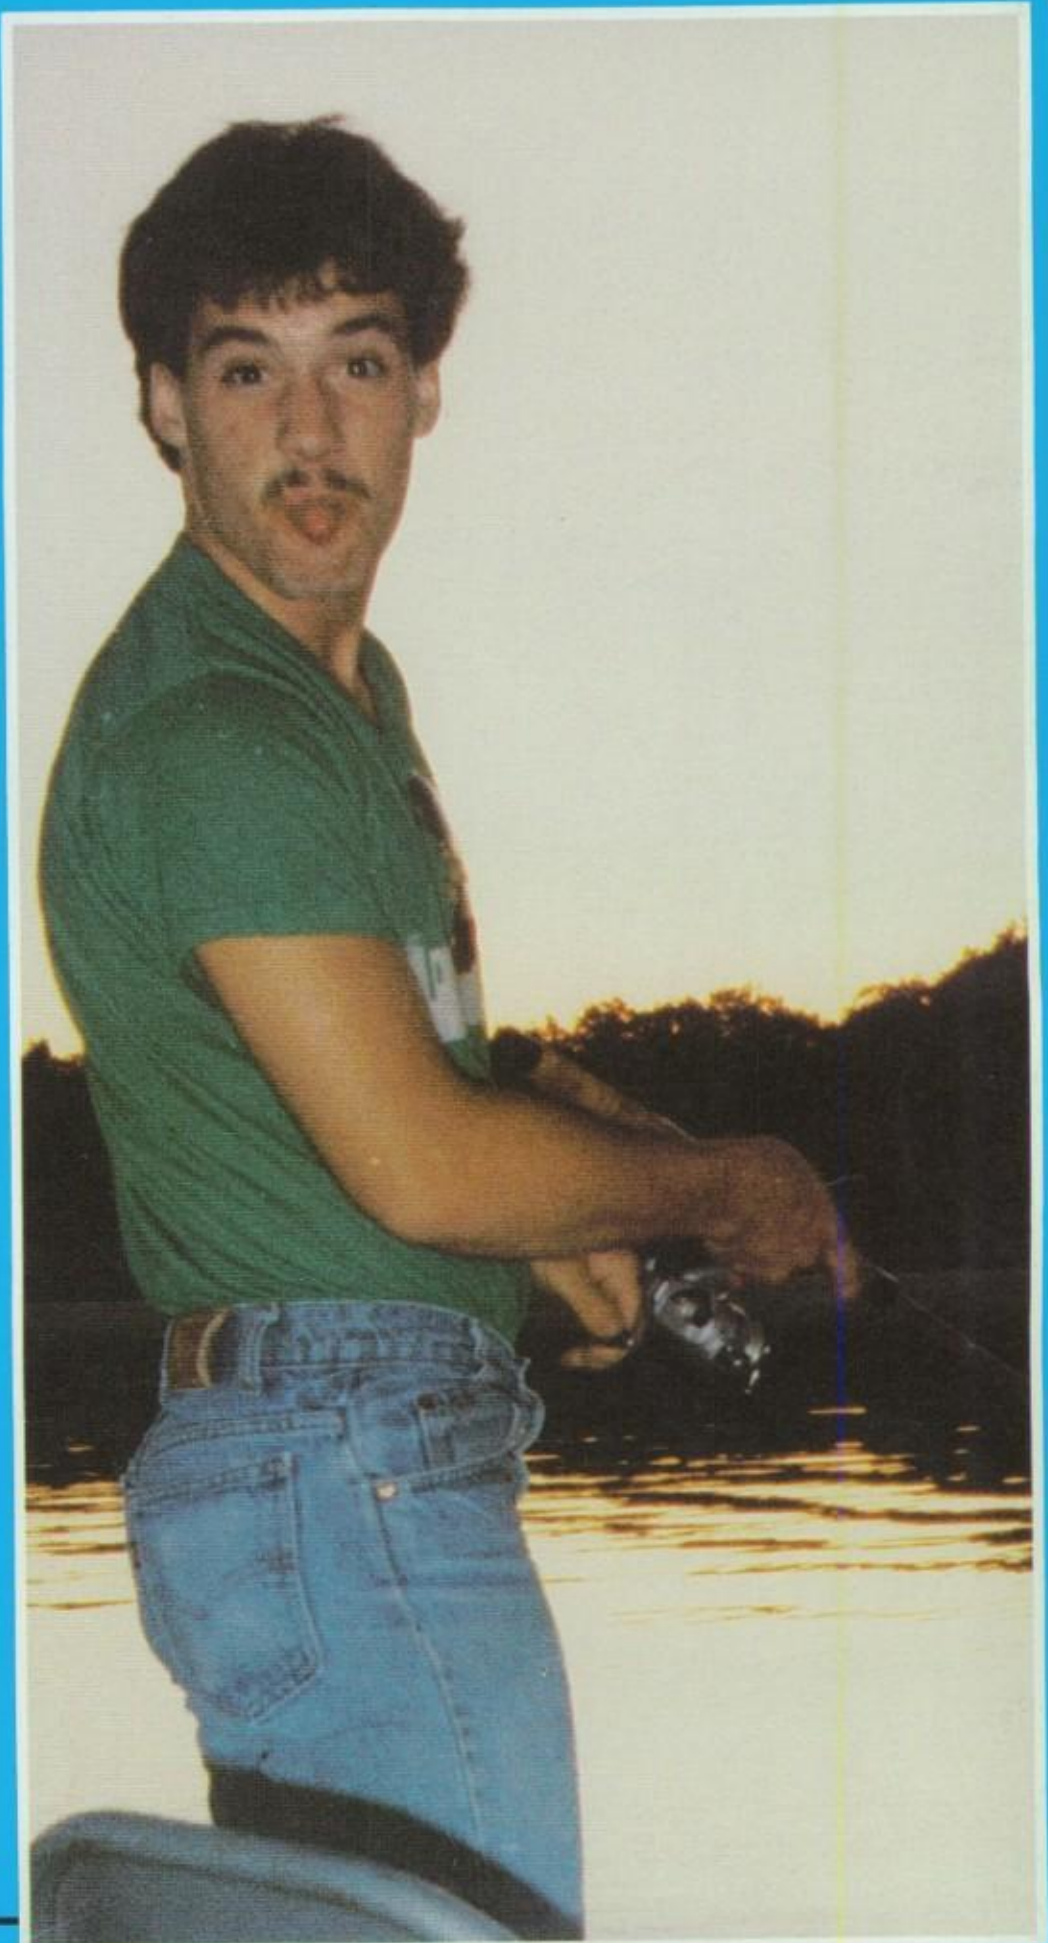

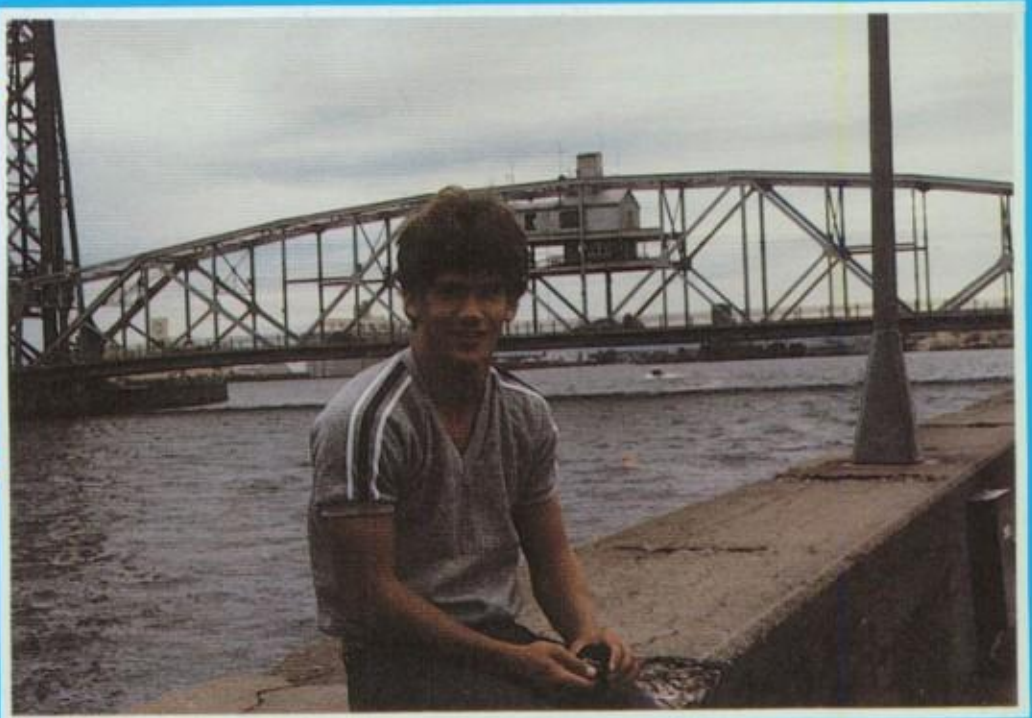

With all the summer offerings, it seems the most popular thing to do is just take it easy lying on the beach at Lake Josephine. But summer offers much more than just the beaches. The weather is great for those countless trips to the lake. Fishing, swimming and boating are the core of many peoples' summer.

Of course, summer is the time for the annual family trip that everyone so anxiously awaits. A visit to all the family places that you know better than the back of your hand.

As the end of August rolls around, and summer is quickly ticking away, there is only one last chance to enjoy the fading summer. The Minnesota State Fair. The opportunity to enjoy the last eleven days of summer to their fullest extent.

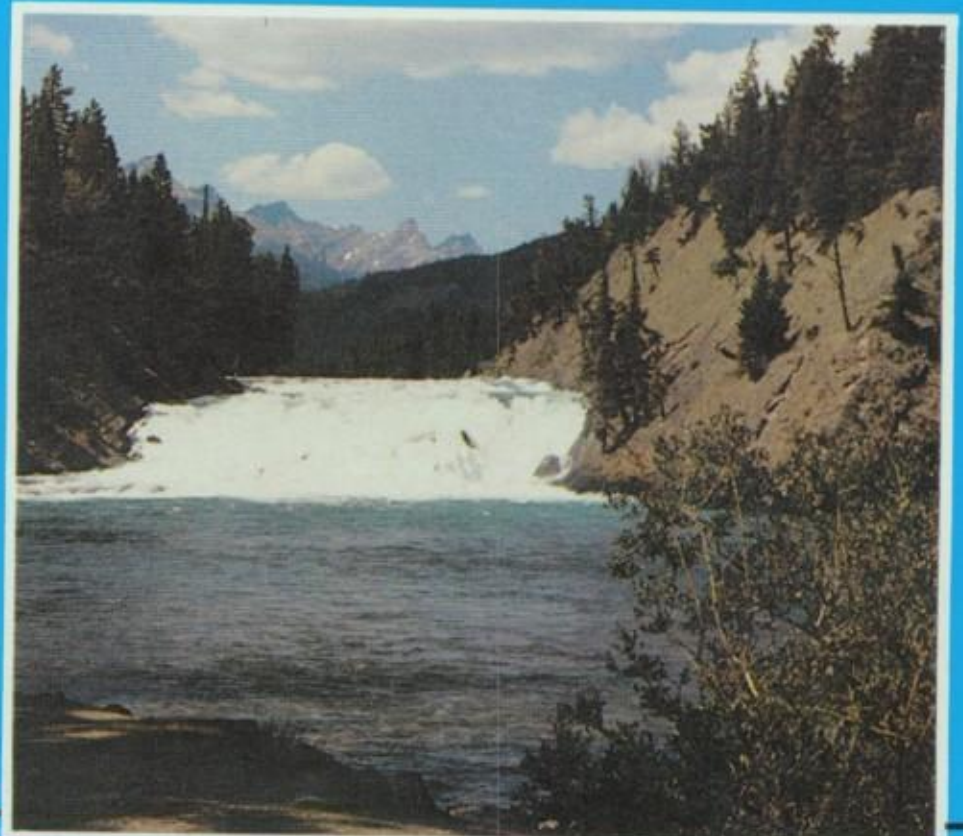

Before you know it, the Fair is over, and you received your school schedule in the mail. September has arrived. You now begin your nine month wait again. And when summer again arrives, you realize that it was well worth the wait.

Knights Out!!

The most successful fall event and highlight was homecoming, and its festivities were clearly visible in the halls as students showed their fashion and pizzazz on Punk Day, Nerd Day, and Best-dressed Day. But the fever was the highest on Traditional Day when the Cougar fans came dressed in black and gold to show their true school spirit.

As everyone cheered and screamed at the game, the Harding Knights knew it was "Lights Out" for them. The Cougars worked hard for a Homecoming Victory of 27 to 6.

The Homecoming Dance was held Friday, September 28, in the school gym, and the band "Rocking Horse" played for the event.

Homecoming! It's a magic which opens eyes and spirit of Como students.

On Thursday, September 27, 1984, the highlight of Homecoming was the crowning of our 1984 King Willy Ulrich and Queen Shannon Tschida.

After the magic of the coronation came the rowdier spirit with a school full of dressed up punkrockers, nerds, and black and gold faces.

As Homecoming came to an end, Como students reflected upon the true meaning of the event: a time to cheer, a time to laugh, but most of all, A TIME TO REMEMBER.

Guys Dream About

Girls, have you had a chance to listen in on any serious boy talk? Surely, you've guessed it? Their main topic of conversation is YOU!

What do they look for in a girl?

"The body?"

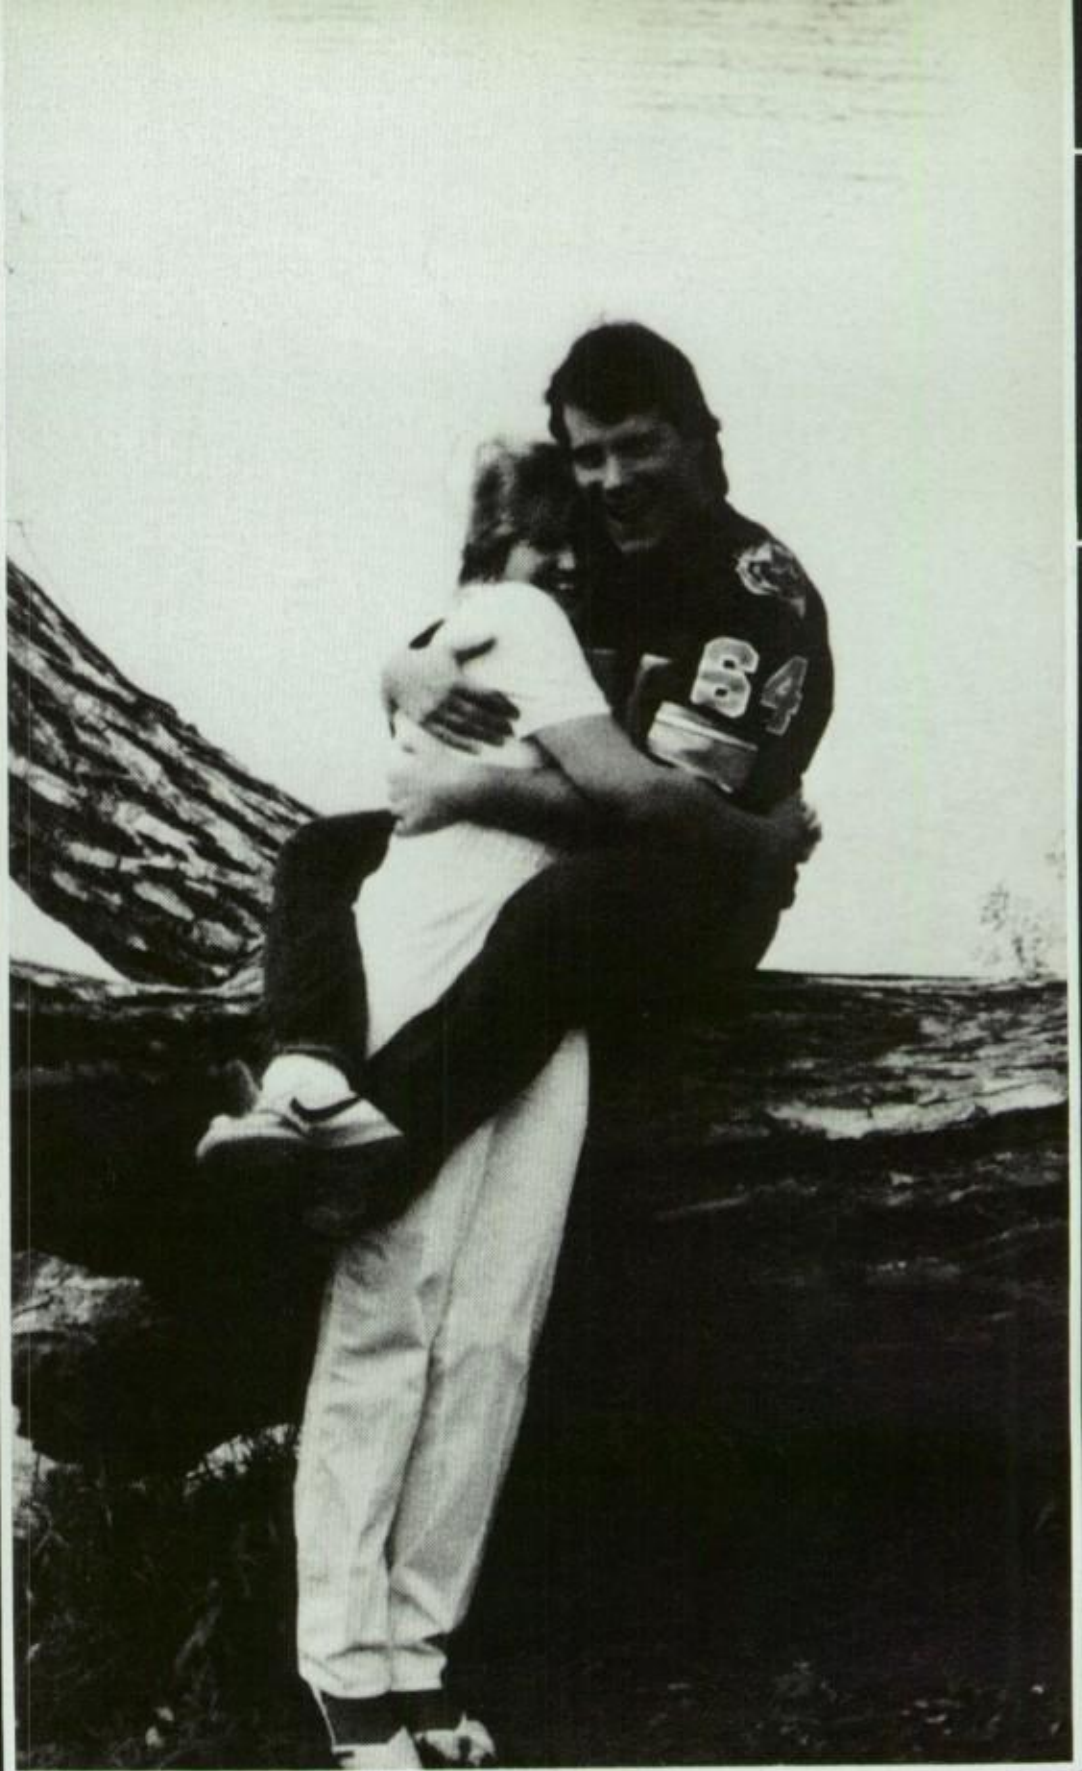

"Definitely the body."

"O.K. But there must be something else; personality is important. A girl needs to have a lot of pep and a sense of humor. Nothing makes a guy happier than to know a girl with a cute laugh and who has something nice to say. You know the type. They make great dates."

"Ladies, if you've been playing dumb to get guys, it's time to stop. Boys want a girl with brains."

"If a date doesn't have anything interesting to talk about, then she's not even worth the price of dinner at Burger King"

Last, a guy wants a girl to be there to listen to him. He wants a friend and a girlfriend. He wants someone to hold hands with and who cries at sad movies.

Dream Date

Girls Dream About . .

When the girls get together to talk, usually they talk the most about . . . boys. So girls, what is a dream date, a fantasy guy, made of?

"He's got to be smart, someone who knows what's going on in the world today. And have a plan for the future. Who wants a nerd?"

"He's got to have a body. Have you been in the weight room lately?!" I'm sure all girls can relate to that?

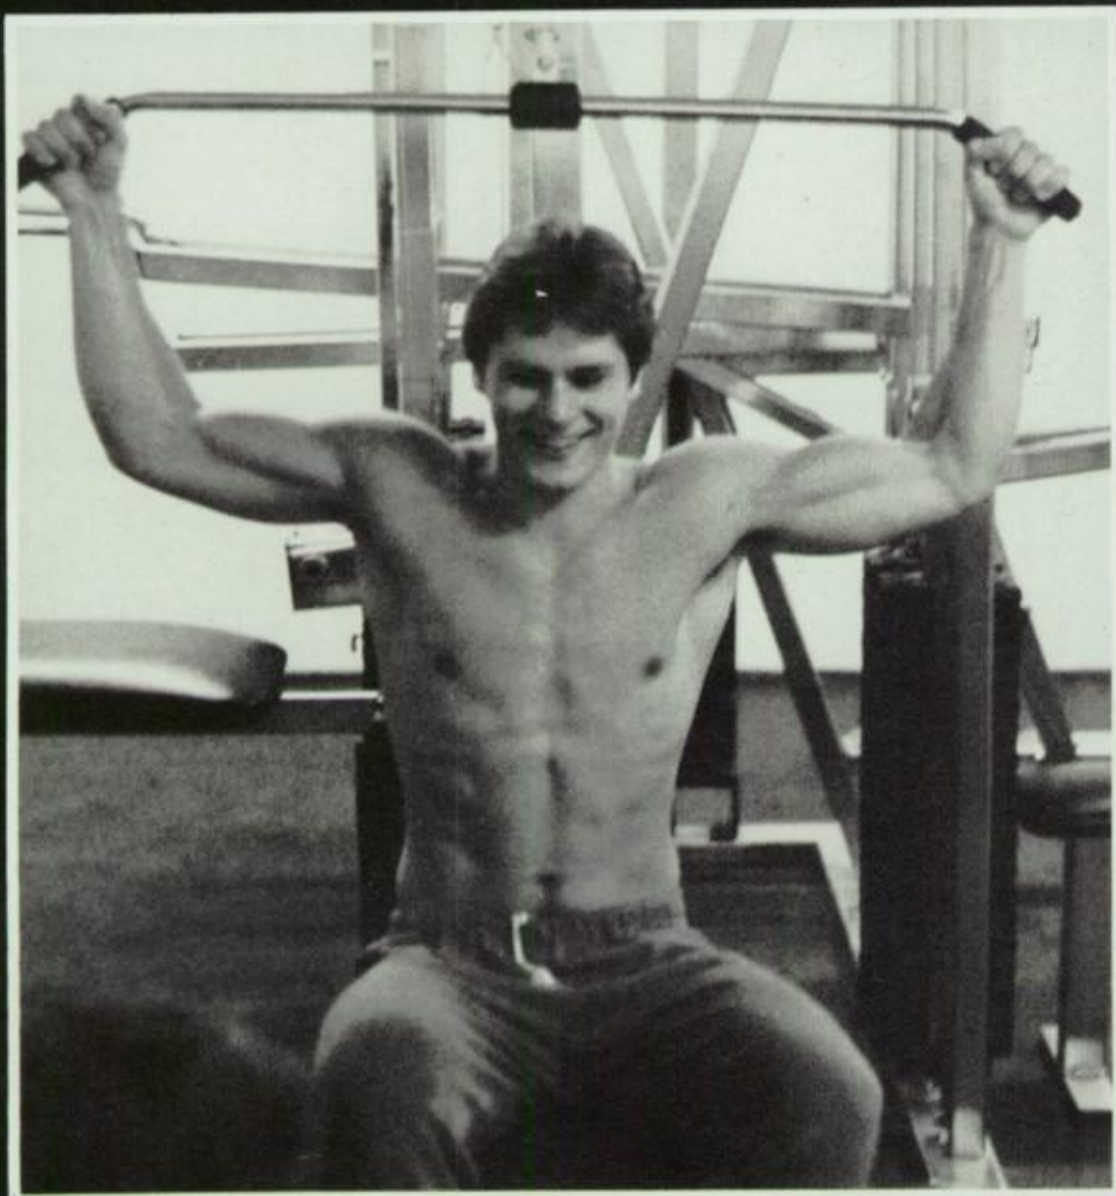

But what else?

"Personality! What fun is a date if all he can talk about is his dog or his weight set or his car?"

That's right.

"And he's got to be a gentleman, a guy who opens doors and lays down his coat over a puddle to save a girl's shoes. Being a gentleman includes manners. All girls want to be with guys who treat them nicely and with concern."

"A smile is important, too. Anyone can have a body, personality, and even charm. But, an honest smile from the heart is a one in a million thing."

Como's flare for fashion changes from year to year, and from season to season.

Fall starts with the show of summer fads: girls in their cropped pants and jelly shoes; the guys with their 501 jeans and O.P. shirts. As fall sets in with the turning of the leaves and the blowing of north winds, the girls display their sweaters and designer jeans, while the guys don pin-stripped jeans and the newly found dress shirt and tie.

This year we have viewed an up-graded look in Como's dress and are no longer afraid to bring forward the preppy, punk, or classy looks, without being labeled as such.

EXCUSES!

A major part of one's highschool years is spent making excuses. Whether it's about that late date, flunked test, or dented car, teenagers are particularly proficient in the art of "getting out of it." Excuses that generally work are:

1. For a day of school missed: "I had contagious pink eye." Teachers will be impressed with the seriousness of this disease, and likely won't press charges.
2. For an unfinished assignment: "I lost my contact lense." Teachers tend to fall for this one and will wish you luck in finding it.
3. When you are late to pick up your date: "I couldn't find your house." Your date will feel guilty for not giving you good enough instructions and won't be upset.

Excuses that do not work are:

1. For a day of school missed: "I was sick." One phone call could collapse that one right on your head if it's not true.
2. For an unfinished assignment: "My dog ate it." Most people would assume that your dog would have better taste than that!
3. When you are late to pick up your date: "I got a phone call just as I was walking out the door."

Whether it works or not, keep trying!

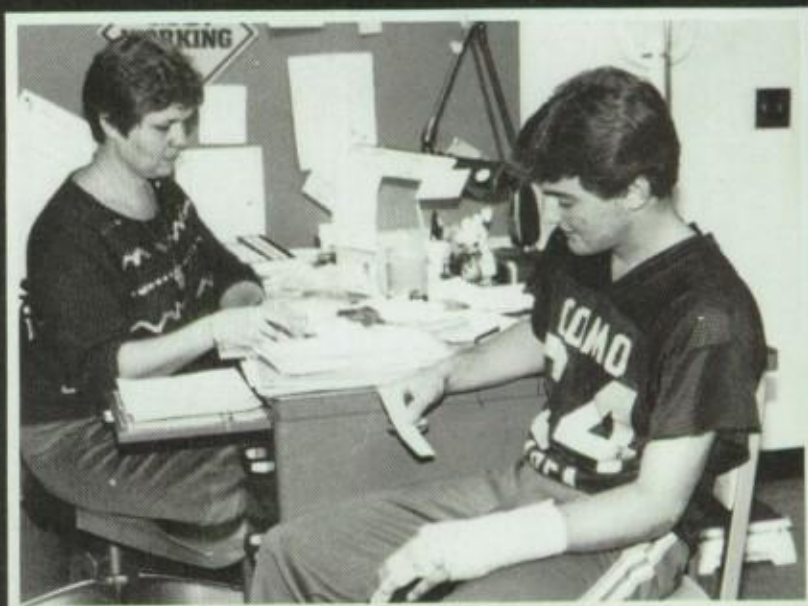

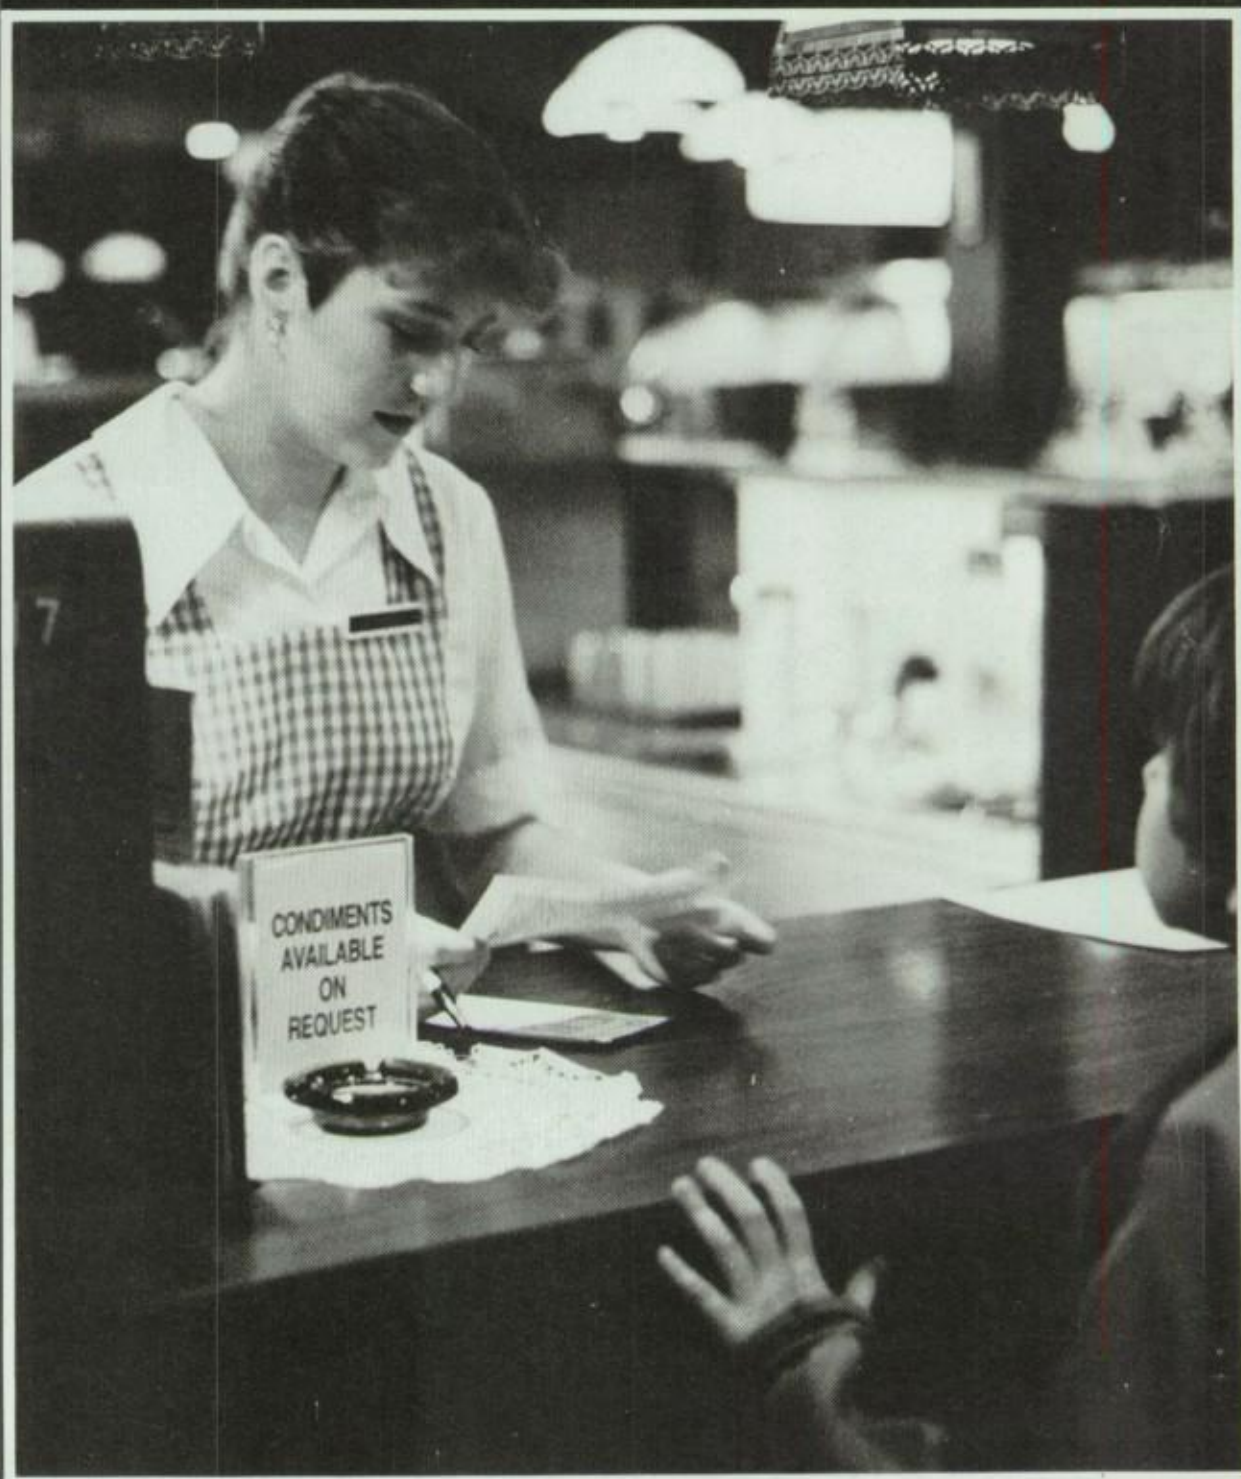

Page 16: Top: Whoops! It looks like Ann Daggy is going to have a hard time explaining this one. Left: "But, Dad, I need an excuse from YOU!", so exclaims Ruth Henke, via the phone. Middle: Karen Krenn confronts her dad at 2 a.m. "You are two hours late," he bellows. Right: "The cards never lie," according to Mr. Moynagh; but Linda Arneson believes she is "early" for next hour. Page 17: Top: Jonathan Hart just couldn't be getting yet another ticket! Left: Students Theresa Kapaun, David Brice, Tom Giller, and Becky Zamora suffer the effects of poor excuses ----- detention! You Never For he first time. Excitement is high, and nerves on edge. The apprehension of going on to explore the world of the unknown. Every one had this feeling; it is part of life. Maybe at the top of the heap is the experience of one's first love. The chills, the self-consciousness. All of these emotions accompany the time when one had his first car, first date, first prom, first party. The first time for anything may be traumatic and wonderful at the same time, but this is what makes it the best time. And when we look back, it is even more magnificent because time has a way of glorifying the ordinary.

Mistletoe Magic

This year, Como Park's Mistletoe Magic was its usual success. The students, along with the faculty, reached and surpassed the goal of $1000 in donations. Also fifty toys and 700 pounds of food were collected and distributed by the Holiday Bureau.

Each year the Student Council sponsors the Mistletoe Magic festivities and the December 21 assembly. MCed by Jimmy Llanas and Erika Oberfrank, got everyone into the Christmas spirit.

Once Upon A

Weekends mean alot of different things to students here at Como. Plans are made usually a few days in advance. But when the bell rings at 2:20 on Friday, the weekend officially begins.

Some students rush home from school to relax in front of the television with their favorite snack, or they catch up on the missed gossip simply by calling a friend. Still others get ready to go out with friends. Will they make it in before sunrise?

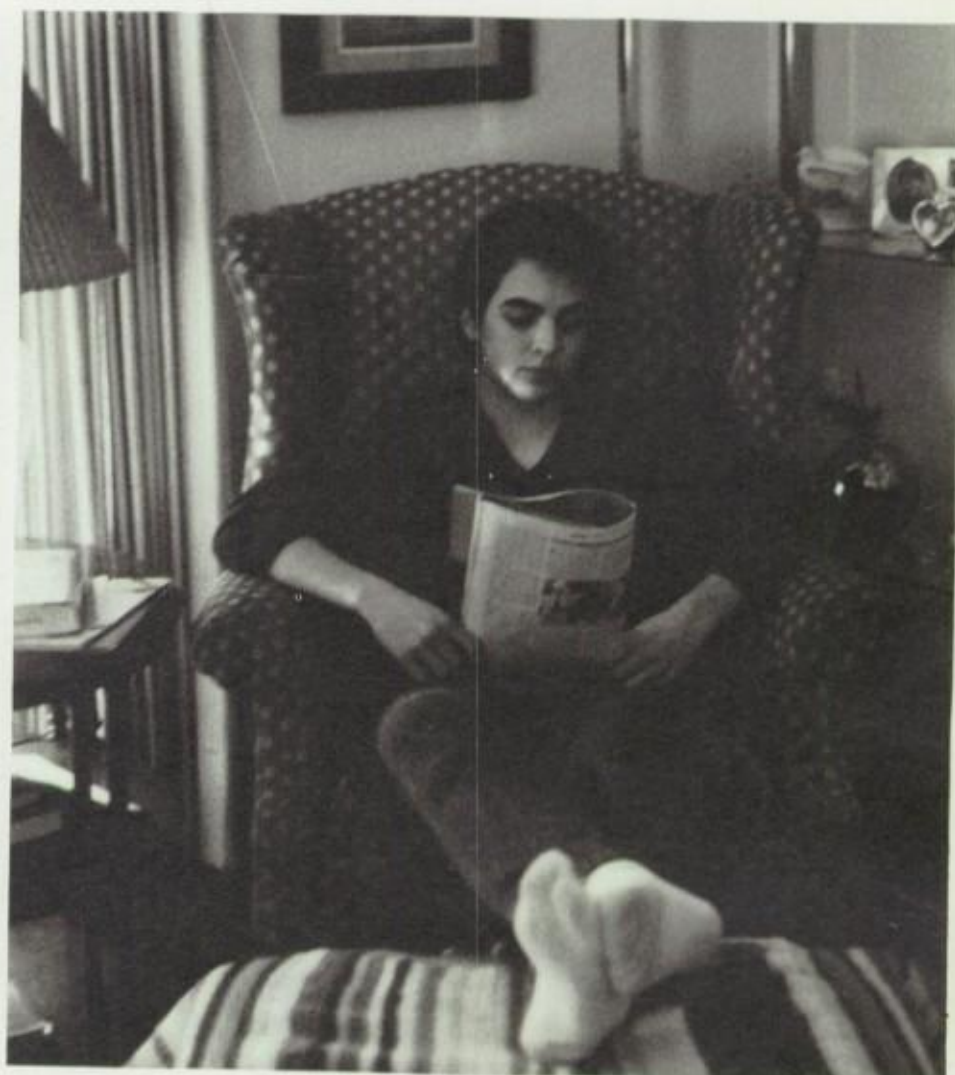

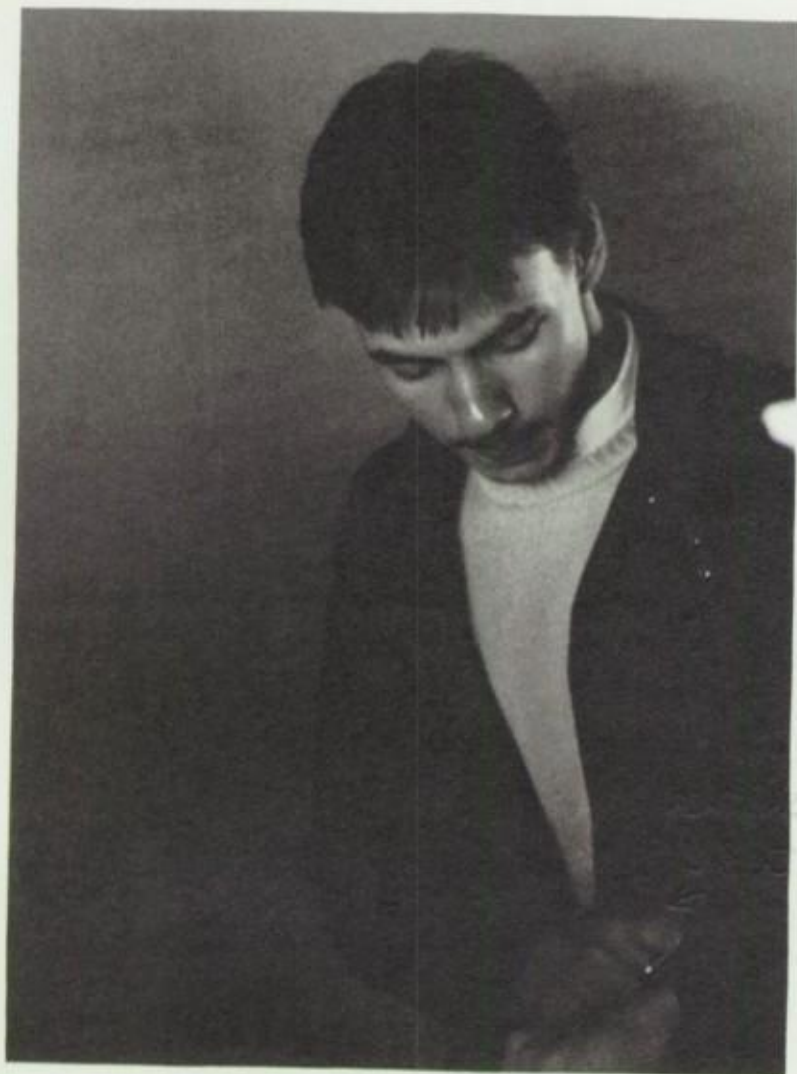

How Como students decide to spend their weekend is up to the individual. But all will agree that weekends go much too fast.

Once Again . . .

High schools live by tradition. From the past, and even from the class which just graduated, we live by the beliefs and customs which we heard, or saw, or inherited. Finally, we are seniors: we can sit in the commons, or at lunch, where seniors are suppose to sit, we can struggle through the ACT or SAT testing because our future college is at stake, or we can "skip" on a certain day, edit the school newspaper, be the Homecoming Queen or King, captain a varsity sport, get the courage to go to Prom (or pray we'll be asked), or even journey to Hawaii. Why, because tradition dictates we do so ---- if we can. And we wouldn't live without it.

Fun In The Snow

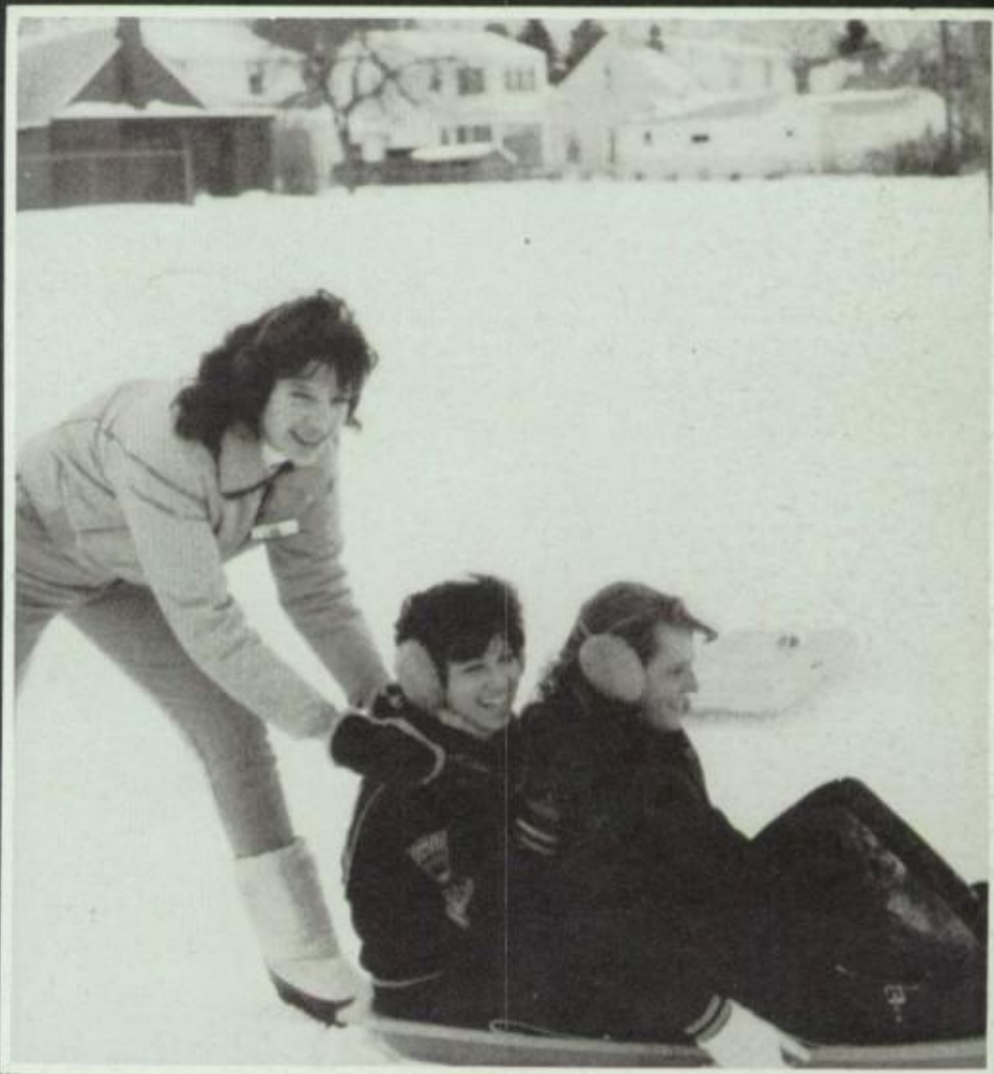

During the winter months you can find Como students engaging in such activities as sliding, pushing out snowbound cars, partying, or even entering in the St. Paul Winter Carnival Ice Sculpturing Contest.

This year with the intense cold weather it wasn't just fun and games. The parties at the rings were out because somehow the fire didn't get warm enough. The parties were moved inside and having people over to watch VCR movies was the thing to do. Slowly but surely sliding parties, and ski trips became popular as the cold weather subsided. Daring Como students ventured out to Green Acres for snowtubing, to Como Golf Course for sliding and to Afton Alps for skiing.

Como Style

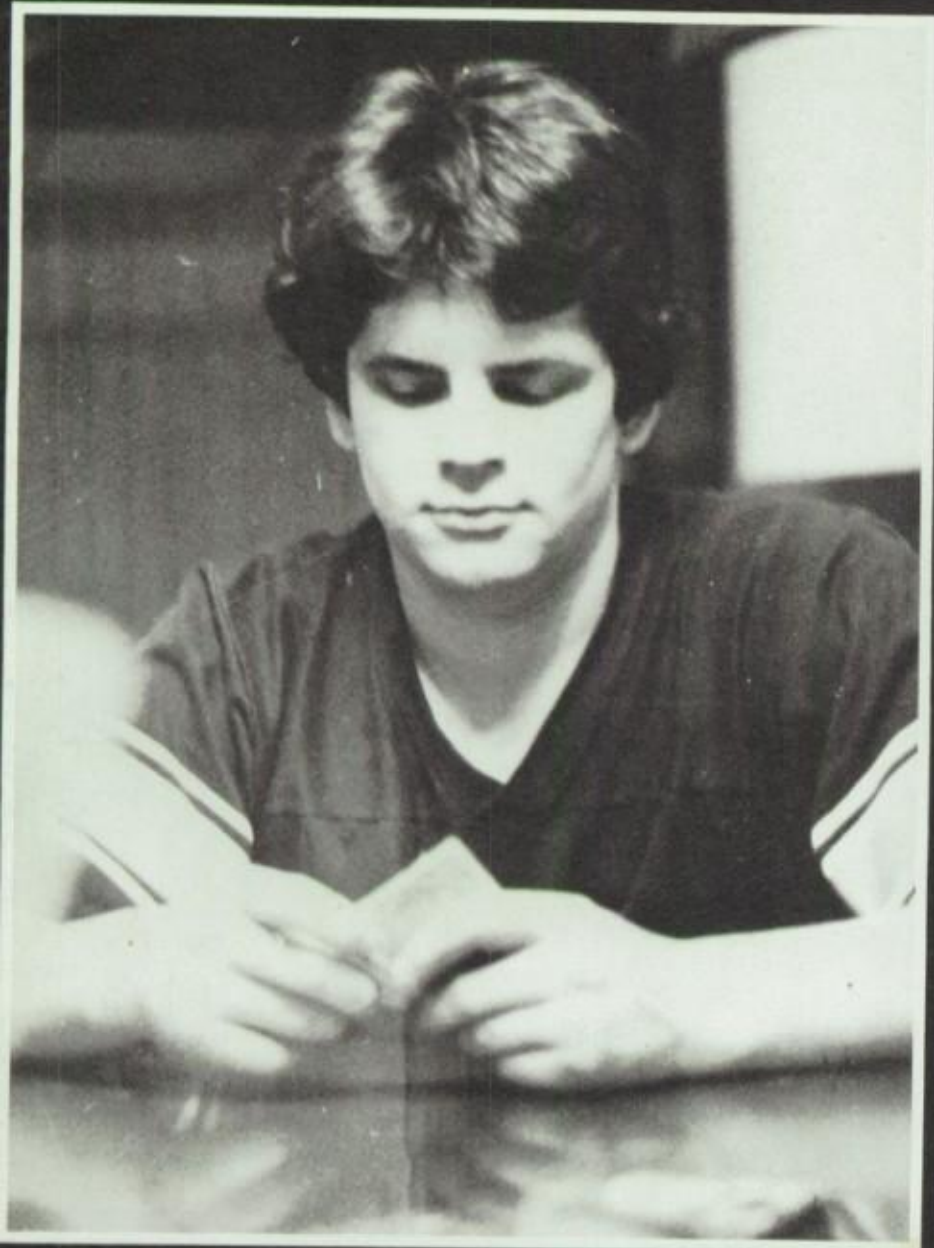

What's On Tonight?

It's 2:20 p.m., and the question in the minds of many Como students is "What's on for tonight?" Some might respond with, "Well, there is a party at the Rings or the Dutch." Others might say, "Should we shoot some pool or play some cards?" Some prefer to go out on dates. Where to go? Silly question! Why not walk around the lake or see a movie. You could go out to eat or stay home and watch the tube or the C.R.! Whatever students decide to do, as long as it's with friends, it is always "Letting the Good Times Roll."

The Good Times

The monotony of a long and drawn out winter is always pleasantly interrupted here at Como Park with Winterfest Week. The climax of this week comes at the coronation when the royalty is finally crowned.

The 1985 coronation assembly was a complete success. It included another great display of Como Park's talent, the Breakers who danced to their own music performed by Reggie McGee and Tyrone Maxwell. There was a surprise appearance by the "Timex", a group of girls who resemble Morris Day and the Time. The harmonious voices of Chreese and Claver Williams echoed throughout the gymnasium as they performed two songs.

The band kept up the pace as the candidates entered and the royalty were at last crowned. At the end of the assembly Como Park had a new royal Winterfest couple: King Aaron Larson and Queen Gerilyn Courneya.

Jeff,
 It's been great knowing ya this year. You're a real sweet heart. Hope you have a nice summer. Call me sometime. (489-1184) Luv ya, Kristin Buss

Love Was Alive In '85

The 1985 Como Park Winterfest Week was a memorable occasion. The week was filled by the dress up days: Twin Day, Hawaiian Day; Red and White Day, 50's Day, and the all new Thermal Day.

The assembly was held on Thursday, Valentine's Day. It consisted of the coronation, and various performances by Como's students.

The week came to a climatic end Friday night with the Winterfest Ball, the annual dance where the girls ask the guys. Over one hundred couples attended and enjoyed the great sounds of the band, "Dewey and Company". At 11:00 the dance was over, and the fun week was finished.

Exchange Programs

Travel, meet new people, explore new lives and new civilizations. Boldly go forth to Como Park Senior High School. Where's that? In Saint Paul, Minnesota. Saint Paul? Yes, it's a place thousands of miles from home, where everyone is a stranger. Or are they? Not true for long. But just who are these brave souls who have traveled so far to be a part of our school? And from what distant lands have they come?

Please allow this edition of the 1985 PUMA to introduce to you ... the exchange students! These people are clever, and they blend right in. Maybe because we're all the same. It has been said in recent years that Como Park High School is a melting pot of people and cultures of almost every type. This may be why the exchange students are practically indistinguishable from veteran Comos. For our foreign friends, adjustment may have been a little difficult at first; but the Cougars hope that we have successfully welcomed them with open arms.

Cougars Give A Helping Hand

New Friendships To Last Forever

Como Park High School would like us all to remember this year's exchange students: Chiharu Yajima and Atsushi Tsuchida from Japan. Bjorn Lindberg from Sweden and Peter Studer from Switzerland.

Parties, new friends, trips, and movies. All are activities in a teenager's life. Different from the lives led in other countries? Not much. Never forget our spirited place, for you will always be remembered in the heart of this school. Hopefully, your time here has been pleasant.

CRIER and PUMA

New editor of the PUMA John Koenig and adviser Mrs. Barbara Saylor started work on the yearbook last summer. Enthusiasm ran high especially after learning that the 1984 PUMA received a second place award in Columbia University's judging of yearbooks from throughout the entire United States. This was the first time a Como yearbook had been entered in any competition, and the staff was extremely pleased with its high placement.

School started; and the staff got busy, photographers took hundreds of candid, staff writers worked on copy, and assistant editors Dawn Eilts and Jimmy Llanas lead the work on layouts. With few experienced yearbook people, much trust was placed on the rookies. And proven by this book, those rookies produced.

The CRIER this year was one of exceptional quality. The paper represented us, the student body, and our ideas. Lead by editor Renee Miller and assistant editor Carlos Montez, the staff worked hard to produce 10 issues and to make the paper a true voice of the school.

Being a member of the band takes talent, skill, and much dedication. This year's band has not only shown dedication but also spirit by playing at sports events, our assemblies, and civic centers.

Under the direction of Alton Burns, the band displayed originality and excellence at its concerts. At this year's Homecoming game, against the Harding Knights, the band tried something new. During half-time the band marched out onto the field, spelled C-O-M-O, and put on a show to the "Rocky Theme". Everything was a success and the game was won. This new experiment may come as a tradition here at Como Park.

Choir Shines At School And Civic Performances

This year's choirs suffered a number of losses as half of the members graduated in 1984. But Ms. Rusch took control of the returning choir members, and the many new ones, and produced excellent concerts and an outstanding spring musical.

The choirs put on their annual winter and spring concerts and still found time to perform at Bandana Square during the Christmas season for yet another excellent concert.

Being a member of Como's Choirs requires much dedication and discipline, and the members this year have what it takes. You can see it in the way they perform.

STAGE CREW

Steve Parisek and Jeff Karch, pictured left, are the only two members of Mr. Bergman's efficient stage crew. It is the boys' responsibility to supervise the running of the stage lights and spots, the co-ordinating of stage activities, the handling of the curtain, and the correct using of sound or mike equipment whether it be for an individual teacher's use in the auditorium to a major drama or musical production. Without the expert help of these two boys, Como's stage would not come to life.

DRAMA CLUB

The Drama Club is made up of any Como student who is interested in drama, comedy, theater, or school productions in general. Under the direction of Mr. Jacobsen, this group not only puts on a major play each spring but also, as a group, attends Guthrie productions and other theater attractions which come to the Twin Cities.

Debate And Library

School Clubs and activities are not only for finding friends with similar interests, but they can also aid our school with a service. The Library Club helps the librarians and keeps the library running smoothly. The French and Spanish Clubs get together to learn more about the cultures of these countries, to sample special foods, and to celebrate holiday customs of the countries.

The Debate team which competes on varsity and novice levels throughout the state, is advised by Mr. Casey. In three short years, our debators have placed high in many tournaments; and the school's trophy case is their proof of achievement.

Student Council

The student council, voice of the student body, had a most successful year from the spirit of Mistletoe Magic in December to winter sport week of Winterfest in February. Run by the students, for the students, the council functions as a link between the student body and the school administration. One of its main objectives is to listen to problems, suggestions, and concerns from the students about our school and attempt to work out solutions.

Student council also sponsors the Blood Mobile, runs the vending machines, and returns the profits to needed school projects, activities, and organizations. It truly is a beneficial addition to Como Park.

Seniors

Some days, it was so good to be alive. Good to be your age, 17 or 18, and good to be a student.

Even better to be a Como student.

Just being there made you feel good to be a student, to see, to hear, and to absorb. To develop a loyalty.

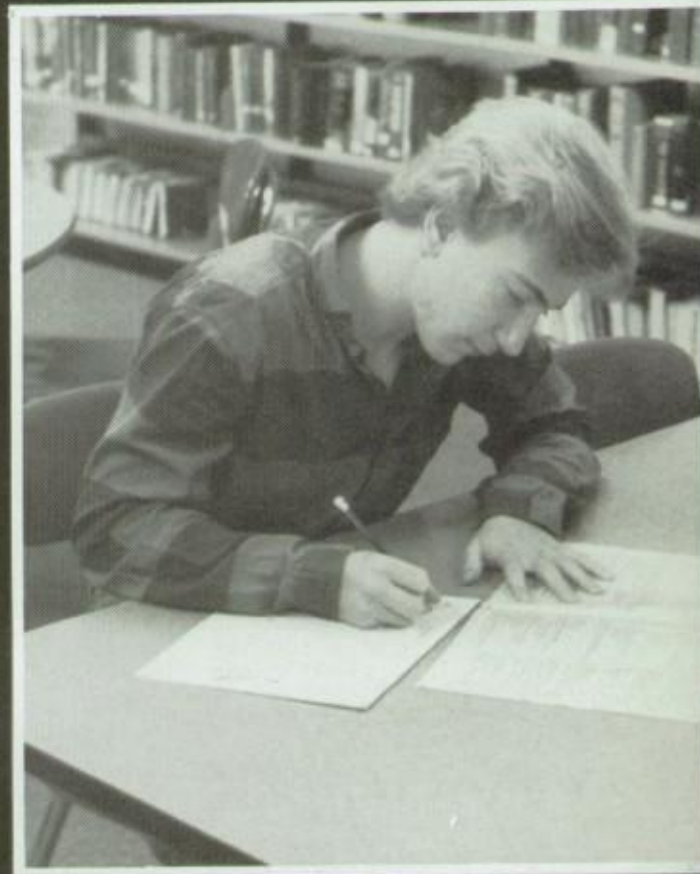

Now as Seniors there are thoughts and plans for the future. We must confront new worlds of freedom and responsibilities. Will we go to college or seek a job? What is in store for us?

As Seniors we have prepared ourselves and are ready to meet the challenge of our future; we must advance with courage and faith.

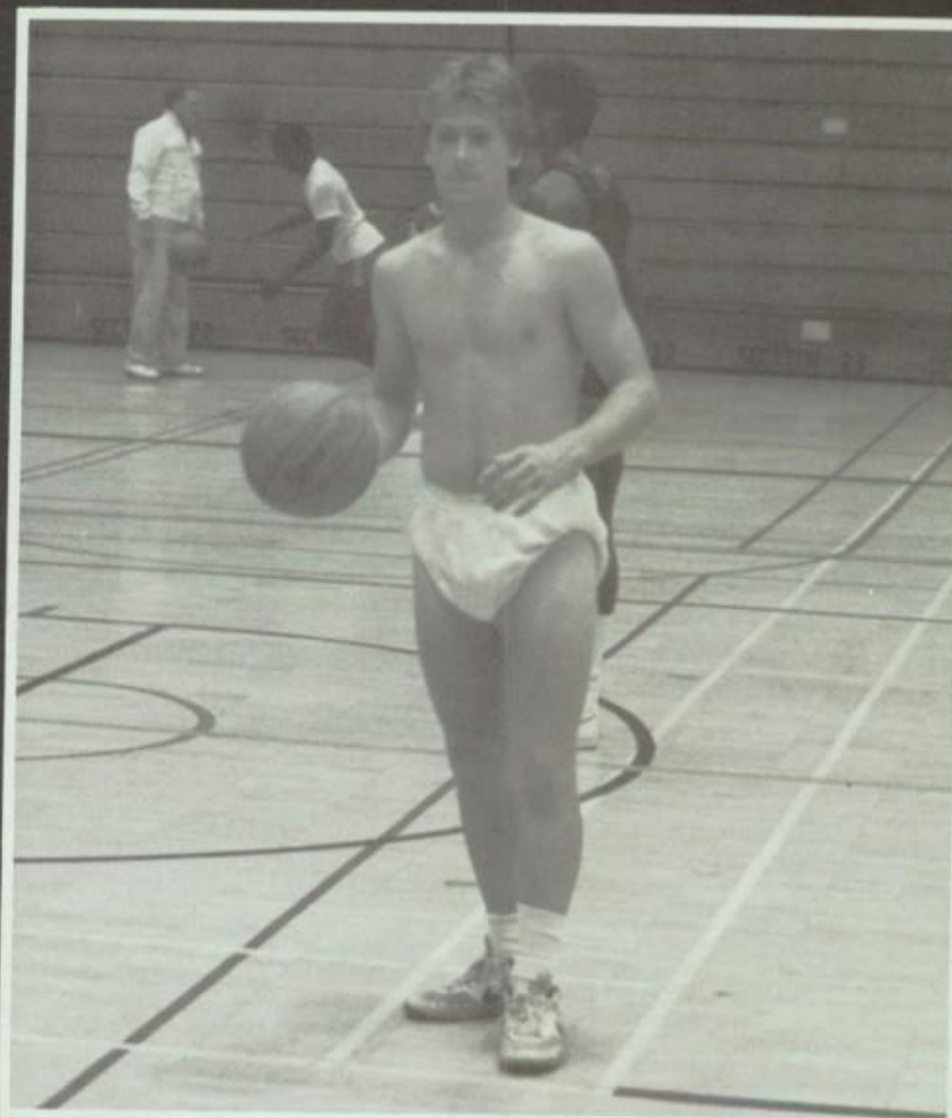

And we will

Friendship

Single file and yet together,
We have shared our greatest days.
And we carry common memories
In different ways.
Though we don't know where we're going,
We will cherish where we've been.

I want to cry.
I want to shout
I want to let this feeling out.

Hold on to the moment
Let the feelings show;
Hold on to the moment
Never let it go.

I can picture us together
With my arms around my friends.
Just let me hold on to this moment,
Before it ends.
There was laughter, there were tears,
Through the dozen golden years.

Our Many Roads To Come

Robert Groven

Terri Hass

Two roads diverged in a yellow
wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted
wear;
Had worn them really about the same.

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to
way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I

I took the one less traveled by,
And that had made all the difference.

Memories

Memory

Memory is a tape recorder,
And there's one in every head
Storing everything we have ever seen,
Or felt, or said.
The word, remember, simply means
We're playing back a part
Of all that's been recorded there
And lives close to our heart.
Sad thing, sweet thing,
Whatever it be,
The calling it back is a
Memory.

What's Doing?

Being with friends
Taking some time,
Money to spend;
Long movie lines

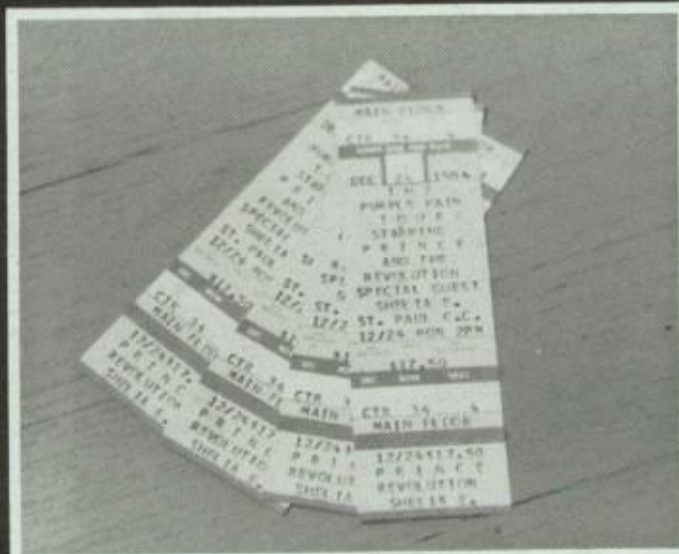

Friday, Saturday —
Call up the guys.
Hey! Let's go play.
How the time flies!

How many people?
I only need one.
Can you go out?
Let's have some fun.

Want to stay in?
That will be fine.
Order a pizza!
Your house or mine?

Time for the dance;
Who will it be?
A little romance?
Just wait and see!

I'll miss you all.
In coming years,
Hope you call.

Is Green Your Favorite Color?

It is known as green, cash, and even dough. There are many uses in a modern student's life that require this legal tender. Attending Friday night movies, shopping for that special person, purchasing a school lunch, keeping the car running, or saving for college.

Many students are employed for just this resource. We use banks to hold it for us but we spend it. Some are even dependent on parents for this much needed resource MONEY!

Underclass Crew

They start as insecure freshmen who wander through Como's halls. They avoid the mobs of seniors who seem so much bigger and more relaxed in the high school setting. The sophomore years bring the established friendships and the security of knowing where to go and what to do. By the time they reach the junior year, they are well adjusted, are into activities and sports, and are ready to take on the responsibilities and privileges of a senior. Just one more year!

The years between ninth and eleventh grade have been deemed the most traumatic years of school; they also can be the happiest and the most exciting years of one's education. Here are Como's underclass!

The Junior Class Board under the direction of Mr. Bill Lawler has worked extremely hard to raise money for the 1985 Prom. Different committies were selected to chose the theme, music, and location for Prom, and many fund raisers were held to pay for the expenses. One of these was the selling of calendars which proved a big success, as did the sales of candy and cookies.

The Junior Class Board also had the job of producing the actual Prom. Decorations and promotion took many hours of hard work. Many thanks to the Junior Class Board and their advisor.

Juniors

Traditionally, the varsity team is made up of seniors with a few juniors. Starting positions usually have seniors' names written all over them before the season begins. This year brought a change, however, when many juniors stood out on varsity sports. Some of these juniors are listed here:

Above Left: Front row: Tim Poor, tennis; Julie Sherman, volleyball; Mike Jennrich, baseball; John Strecker, football; Peter Lundstrom, hockey; Nancy Walstrom, swimming; Middle row: Debbie Magnuson, cross country; Lisa Brown, gymnastics; Lisa LeMay, badminton; Claver Williams, track; Miriam Neely, basketball; Mark Koenig, cross country. Back row: Matt Wirka, skiing; Wendy Lee, cheerleading; Mike Kelsey, basketball; Nina Wesenberg, tennis; Dave Anderson, wrestling; Laurie Struntz, softball; Matt Rein, golf. Above: Nina Wesenberg goes for the return in her second year of competition in girls' tennis. Opposite page: Left: Mark Koenig and Hieu Nguyen run hard for Como's cross country. Yippy, Skippy!

When time stands still, everyone is looking at his watch or at the clock on the wall. Some leave school early for a "special occasion" but not a holiday. Some spend time making plans on the phone while others might spend this night going to a movie. Stores are open, some unlucky students are working, while others spend money. Have you guessed it? It's Friday!!

Junior Trends

The Juniors are filling the halls with styles of their own, from the way they dress to the way they wear their hair. Even lockers bear the stamp of individuality. Trends come and go and some styles even make comebacks, but you can expect the Juniors to be trend leaders.

The class of 1987 has acquired a new name: Sophomores!! They have matured from being the peons as freshmen and are now sophomore toads. The class of '87 has demonstrated great enthusiasm in "B" squad sports and promise in leadership. In the years to come, Como Park will not lack in spirit thanks to this class.

The Sophomore trends are seen daily around the halls of Como. Fashions have changed since last year; trench coats are one of the latest looks, along with the "Back to the 50's" look, cropped pants and long sweaters, loafers, pumps, Levis and Lees. Florescent shirts and socks add zip to one's wardrobe also and a sophomore is always willing to try the newest look.

Nothing To Do On The Weekend?

It's only Monday morning and already you can't wait for Friday. But when Friday finally rolls around you can't think of anything new and exciting to do.

When you first turn sixteen and can legally drive, you can hardly wait to hit "Main Street." But once you get there, it's not as exciting as you thought. After you realize that there isn't much excitement on Main Street, you have to think of other things to do. You could toilet paper friends', and enemies', houses.

Some people get so bored they go to an arcade. As a last resort, some will even go to a movie, and others will find some place that has good food. Sometimes a group of friends will go to someone's house and have a good time catching up on all the school gossip.

Athletic Underclassmen

What's a good way to be involved in school? Get to know people and show your spirit.

The sophomores have found the answer to this question in sports. Never before in the history of Como has there been so much sophomore participation in extra-curricular activities.

Whether it's football, tennis, track, hockey, softball, or baseball, you can always see sophomores participating enthusiastically.

Hello, High School

So many new experiences are thrown at freshman as they enter high school: A new building, new classmates and friends, new teachers, new surroundings, and much more. Confusion and Frustration are common during the first few weeks. Upper classmen are frequently bombarded with questions such as: "Where is room 201?" and "Who is Ms. Erbes?" But once the year begins to roll along, the freshmen start to fit in. They gradually rid themselves of their immature habits and grow up.

The time has come when the freshmen students have arrived at Como to meet new people, gain new friends, and find new loves. LOVE may seem to be a strong word to use when young people are involved; but just to remind you upperclassmen, frosh have feelings too.

Do you remember your old flames? It seemed so great!! The first day of school the girls would see the gorgeous guys, race home, and tell Mom, "I think I'm in love!"

The guys would be very shy and just check out the scene, then go home and ask big brother who that sweet lookin' girl with the blond hair, was.

Sooner or later, the two would meet — and fall in love. But the next week, they hated the sight of any one of the opposite sex. However, this isn't true of all freshmen; the sign of maturity sometimes sets in at an earlier age for some and this first relationship just might possibly last.

The First Year

You finally made it! You're in Senior High and ready for anything. You arrive at school, arms filled with books, to find out you don't get a locker until tomorrow. You get directions around the school from helpful upper-classmen, but still can't find the third floor or the bowling alley. But after the first couple of days things start to flow smoothly. You start to meet new people and make new friends. Senior High isn't so bad after all. These next three years will be a breeze!

With all the studying a ninth grader must do to keep up in his required classes, it does not seem as if he would have any extra time. Although a few have jobs, and many are involved in sports and other such activities, most freshmen spend a lot of their time doing homework. Freshmen must take two semesters of English, Social Studies 9, Math, and Science. They also must have at least one semester of Music/Art, Life Skills, Phy. ED, and Health.

What Is Your Favorite Vacation?

Everyone has a place where he likes to go to relax and to get away from the hassles of his everyday life. Even the teachers of Como Park Senior High.

Mr. Bergstrom, our new principal, enjoys Hawaii because he feels it's the most "beautiful spot" in the world. Mr. Kelly, on the other hand, prefers the same place because you can't find a snow shovel there.

Mr. Hennessey and Ms. Ransom both agree on Jamaica for the beautiful beaches, blue waters, its freedom, and the natural easygoing lifestyles of the people.

Mr. Rasmussen goes to Jackson Hole, Wyoming, in the summertime to ride in the rodeos. (Sure Mr. Rasmussen!)

Mrs. Carlson retreats to the Snowbird Resort, in Utah, because it has the best skiing. And Mr. Casey is partial to Sunset Beach, North Carolina. He had a great time there last summer enjoying the sun, surf, and seafood.

When the question was presented to Mr. Pearson, he replied, "Who gets a vacation?"

People In High School Thought I Was . . .

Our teachers here at Como Park Sr. High had a variety of answers when reflecting on their high school years.

According to Mr. Simensen he was thought to be "quiet, always in school, and athletic." Mrs. Rice responded by saying only "giggly." Mrs. Dumas said she went to high school in a small town, and "graduated from a four year high school in three years." Mr. Line used a term from the 50's and said everyone referred to him as a "big wheel." Mr. Kosokar said he was "athletic and good looking." "Friendly, active, involved, good student, and overall good kid" was how Ms. Ransom responded. Mr. Hennessey gave a short and self-explanatory answer by saying, "tall." Miss Blomberg replied by saying "very athletic, fairly quiet, and enthusiastic." Mr. Ashworth response to the question was "smart and square."

What a unique staff we have here at Como.

Como's Educators!

Who Is Your Personal Hero?

After interviewing various faculty members, we found that most do have personal heroes. Mr. Senta's personal hero is Abraham Lincoln, because "he had all of the finest qualities a human being could have." The hero for Mr. Bergstrom, our principal, is Charles Lindberg because "he had courage, wisdom, enthusiasm, and a belief in himself."

Ms. Karr's hero, Jacob Bronowski, a scientist, humanitarian, and philosopher all in one, differs greatly from Mrs. Carlson's personal hero, Eli Wallace. After asking Mrs. Carlson why Eli Wallace, she replied, "He give 150% in everything he does."

Ted Williams, the "splendid splinter", is the personal hero of Mr. Turner because "he is an all-time great and always set a good example for youth."

Mr. Kelly has a rather popular personal hero, Superman. "Superman can do with ease all the things I wish to do."

Mr. Pearson's personal hero is Ralph Engle Britson, his high school coach.

Mr. Casey was slow to respond to our question; but after searching his mind, he came up with Ronald Reagan for in his words he is a "positive leader."

What's your major accomplishment?

When asked this question, most teachers gave a look saying, "How can I answer that without major thought?" But despite this, they came up with interesting answers.

"Having a child. It took me eight years. I was always a slow learner."

-Cheryl Carlson

"Improving my looks. That's why I'm so good looking!"

-Virgil Kosokar

"Being a better fisherman than Moynagh."

-Gerald Line

"Being able to play a role in helping students attain a high level of academic accomplishments."

Teachers' Opinions

"What Was Your Most Embarrassing Moment?"

Mr. Brill- "Once I was being introduced to a person, and I said "Oh, are you an English teacher?" I guess I made her mad because she demanded to know, "What is wrong with English teachers?!"

Mr. Whipple- "While I was a student teacher, I was teaching in front of a class and I noticed that my "fly" was open!"

Mr. Jacobsen- "While traveling in Europe, just after I got out of college, I was in a restaurant in Austria. I thought I knew my German well enough to order a huge dinner. I did order, and as everyone else received steaks and such I was served a gigantic parfait sundae as my main course."

Mr. Niemczyk- "Pitching in a baseball game, I was in the middle of my wind-up and one of my spikes caught on the other one. I fell on the mound and never threw the ball!"

Mrs. Rice- "In Istanbul, Turkey, I beat up my friend's family chauffeur because I thought he was trying to steal my luggage!"

Mr. Lawler- "I was paying a parking ticket at the courthouse but forgot to put change in the meter, so when I came out I had received a ticket for parking!"

Mrs. Saylor- "At a college formal I was on the dance floor and my crinoline skirt under my formal came off and was just lying there. My date and I danced away and I tried to act like it wasn't mine!"

Sports Are

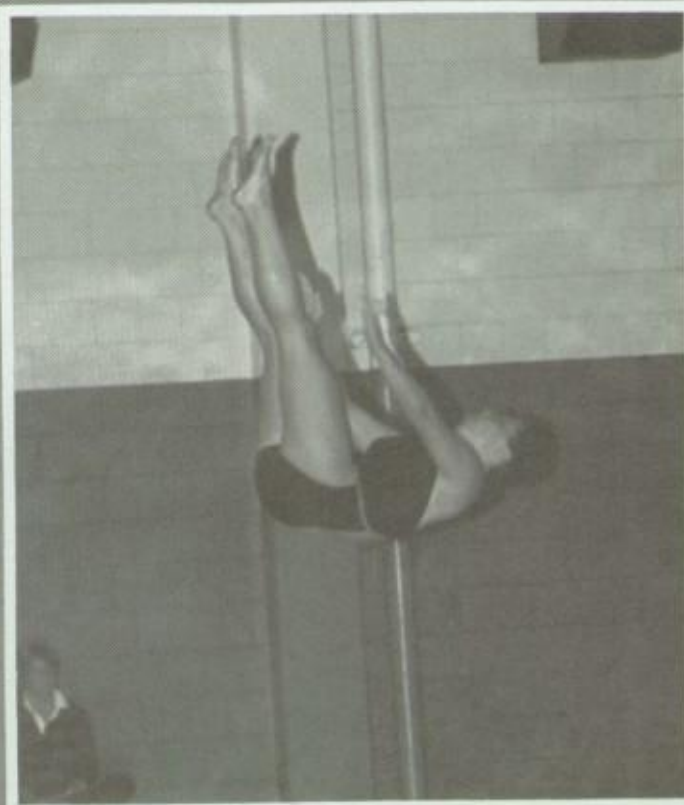

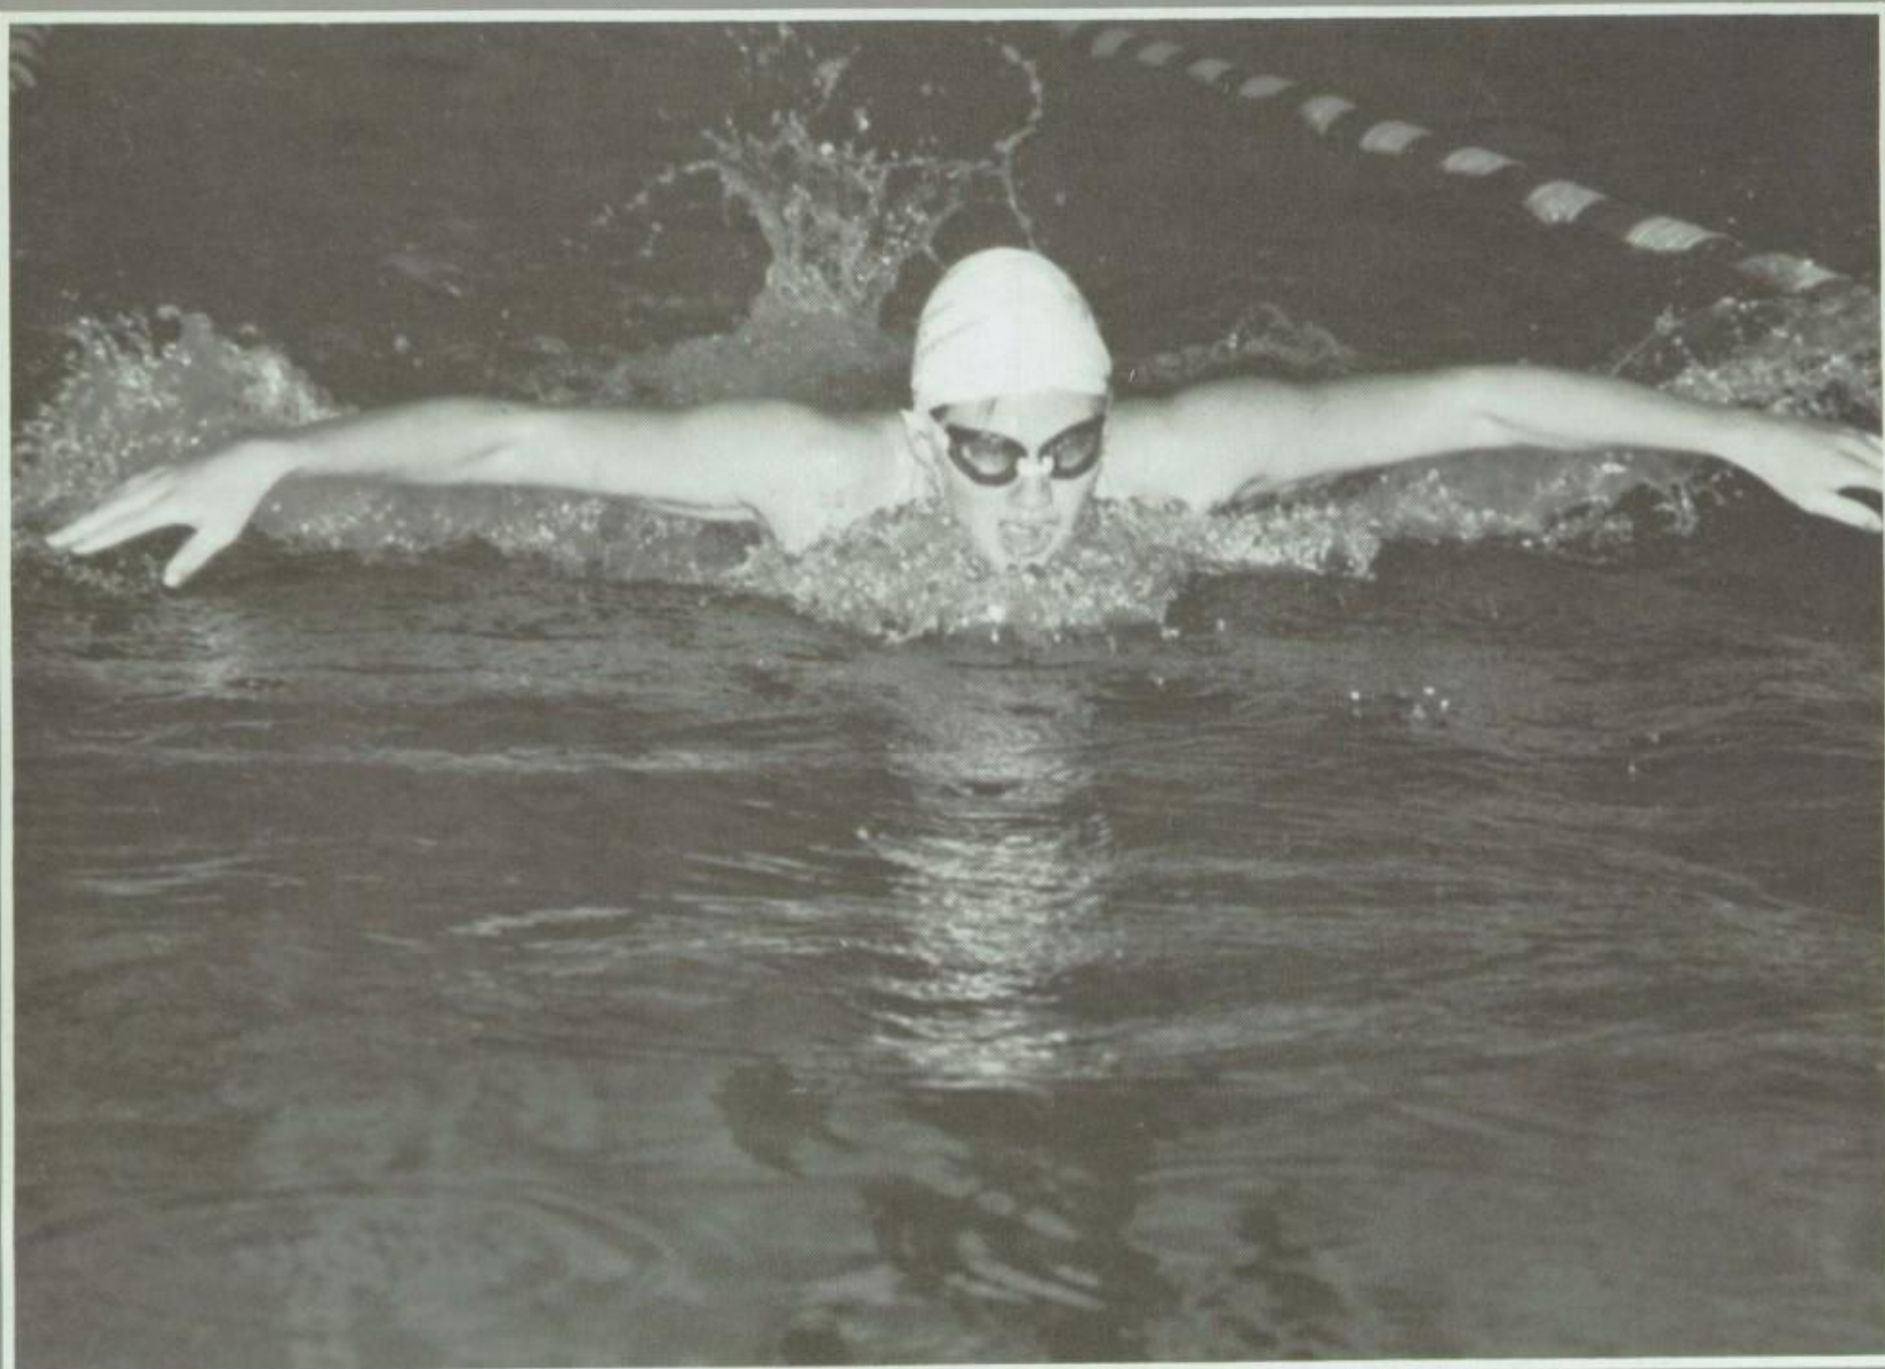

The athletes of Como Park put in countless hours of hard work and dedication. This not only results in many victories for our teams, but also gives them a feeling of fulfillment and accomplishment; and our athletes gain respect for themselves and their team mates. From this, they experience a value which will stay with them for a life time.

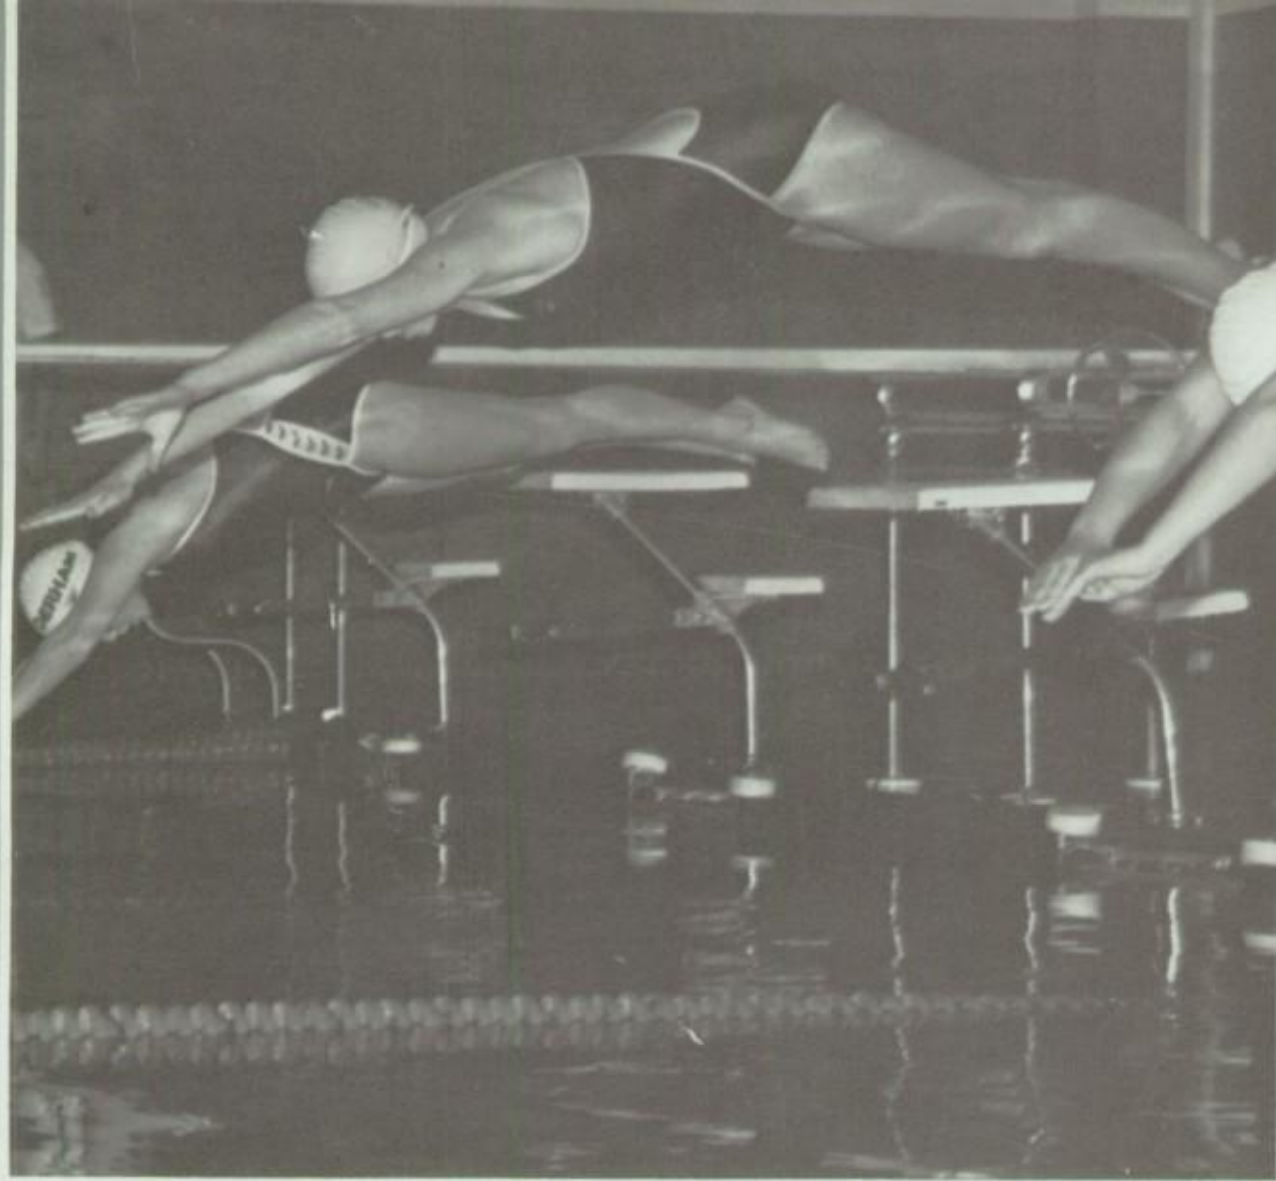

Alive In '85

Different Strokes

Dedication And Team Spirit High For Swimmers

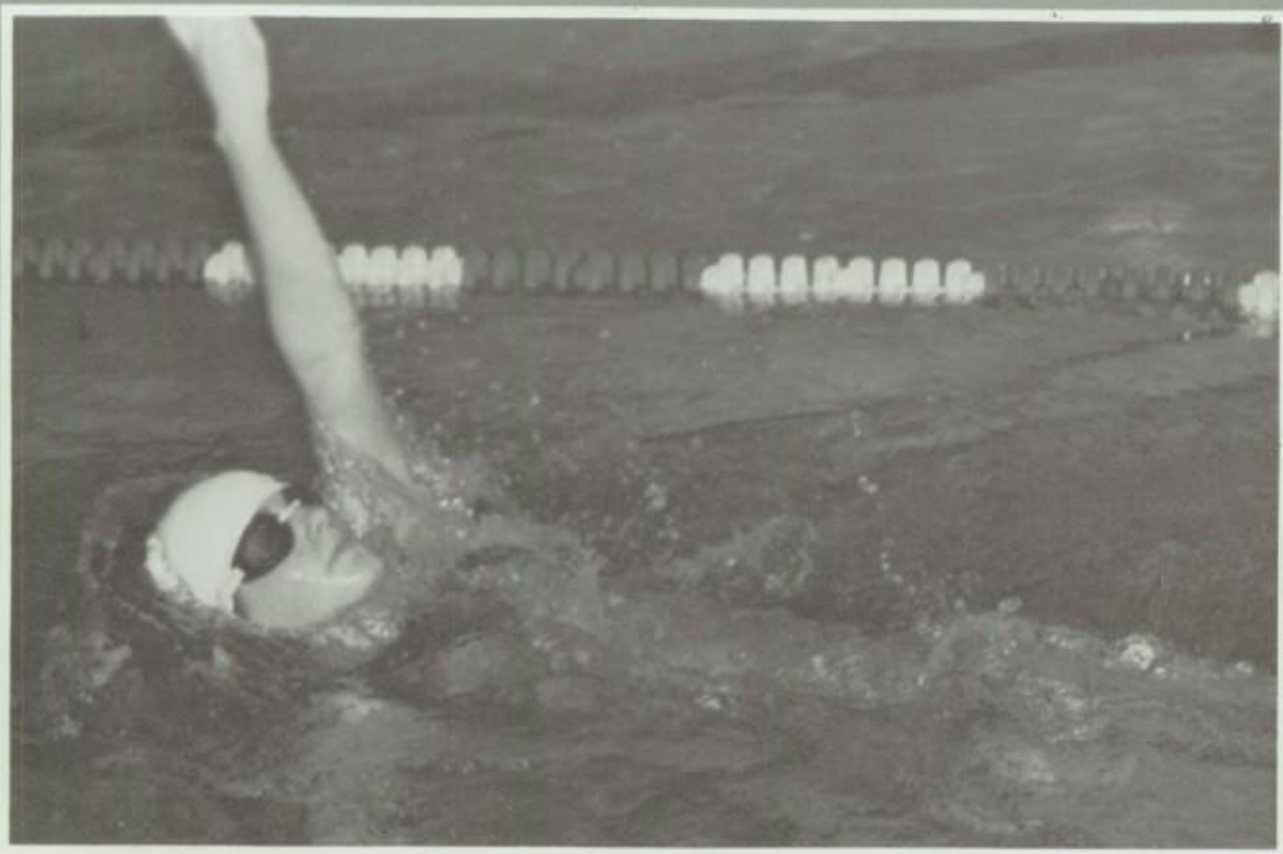

The Como Park Girls Swim team of 1984 consisted of only twelve girls who were dedicated and hard-working. Getting up at 5:45 a.m. to make it to morning practice, staying after school 'til 5:00 for afternoon practice, surviving goggle lines around the eyes, living through swimmer's ear, skin, and hair, are signs of their devotion to this sport. Because of the lack of swimmers, a great chance for much individual instruction was available from the coach. Throughout the season, times were lowered and strokes bettered, or even perfected, thanks to specialized help.

Despite the record, a great sense of team spirit and support were maintained. Everyone realized that because of the few swimmers, the odds at meets were basically nil. Three swimmers who excelled were Nancy Walstrom, Dawn Anderson, and Heather Poor. Lori Dey improved fantastically in her diving skills, and Debbie Berglund perfected her fly stroke.

All in all, the team put forth a great effort of dedication, proving that you don't have to have a team of 36 swimmers to be good. After all winning isn't everything, is it?

A Race To The Finish

The Cross Country team, lead by tri-captains John Koenig, Kathy Karp and Debbie Magnuson, was off to a great start on August 14th.

The team's coach, Kurt Grebner, is an experienced runner, who ran in the Boston Marathon in March of 1981 and in the Twin Cities Marathon in 1984, placing 200th out of 7,000 competitors. Coach Grebner is a science and computer teacher at Humboldt.

The strongest runners for the Cougars were John "PETO" Koenig and Debbie Magnuson. The team worked well together and showed us that the Cross Country Cougars did give their competitors a race to the finish.

Cougar Spirit Dominates A Disappointing Season

Despite its disappointing record, the Girls' Volleyball Team, with returning seniors Laura Serfass, Laura Behrends, Tracy Pelzer and Shannon Tschida, showed dedication, teamwork, and lots of enthusiasm as they faced a tough City Conference. Coach Mary Needham was impressed with the girls' attitude and willingness to learn. She feels the team will be stronger in the future with returning juniors Julie Sherman, Sara Sjowall, and Connie Inks.

Captains Laura Serfass and Julie Sherman felt the team did well considering the change to best of five from best of three games for a match win. This change demanded an increased physical conditioning program which enabled the Cougars to fight to the last point.

We Came To Play

The Fighting Cougars, lead by senior captains Dick Weyandt and Matt Jamieson, suffered a disappointing season. After a close loss in the opener with Hill-Murray, Como rebounded with a big win over Highland Park. The season had its ups and downs as illustrated by the next week big loss to number one St. Thomas. Down again after the Johnson game the mighty Cougars went on to defeat Harding in a big Homecoming upset. One more time the Cougars went down in two big losses to Central and Cretin. The Cougars went on to finish the season on a winning note by crushing Humboldt 29-7.

Girls Swing Into Action

The 1984 Como Girls' Tennis Team, coached by Mrs. Kathy Dumas, wasn't as successful as some had hoped. The team suffered its share of losses, but individually the top two single players Erika Oberfrank and Gerri Maestas had an exceptional season. Erika Oberfrank placed third in City Conference by defeating Derham Hall. Also playing well was second singles player Gerri Maestas who had an overall record of 6 wins and 2 losses.

The team was lead by former letter winners Erika Oberfrank, Gerri Maestas, Ruth Henke, Bridget Farley, and Nina Wesenberg. The girls gave much time and effort to their game by practicing 2 hours a day, learning new techniques and different strategies, and, in general, improving their game.

Next year's team will be young but looks promising.

Hard Work Pays Off In Wins

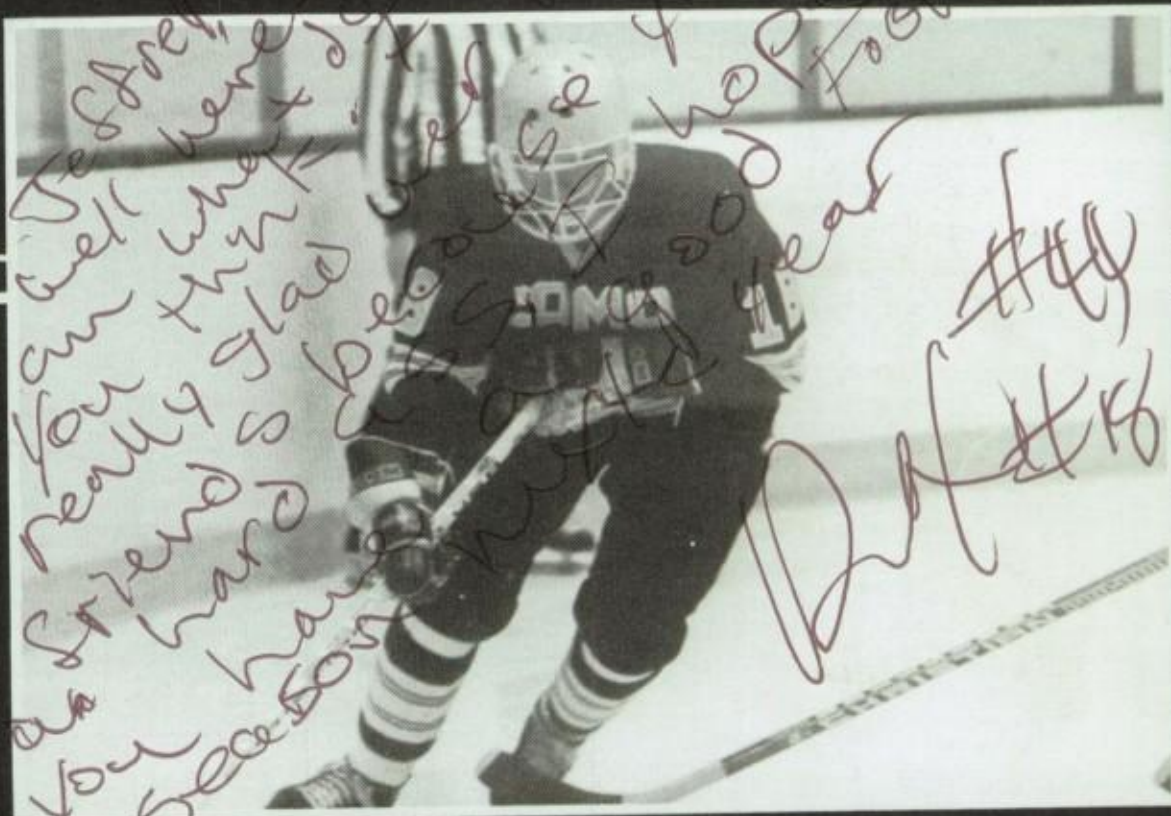

This year's boys' basketball team proved very successful; the product of the past couple of year's growth. Because of the rocky seasons in the past years, the boys found attendance at their games low. Many felt that with more support their team play would improve. The team, led by eight seniors and four juniors, earned that support with eight wins out of eleven games and a five game winning streak going into a tough game against fourth state ranked Central. Our cagers, in front of an impressive crowd, put up a valiant fight, losing by only seven points.

The offense this year was lead by senior Donald West, who led all scorers, plus the consistant hard work of fellow seniors Eli Wallace, Aaron Larson, Jonathan Hausman, Kevin Jernigan, Ted West, Mike Flipp, and David Brice. Juniors Frank Shaw, Andy Groven, John Neely and Scott Niles provided the strong back up that all successful teams need.

The team was led by second year varsity coach Charles Portis, assistant coach Randy Quale, and senior tri-captains Aaron Larson, Donald West and Eli Wallace. This team left its mark in the Como record books not only with a remarkable record, but also in the school's trophy case with Como's first basketball trophy for a win in the consolation round of the St. Paul Academy tourneyment early in the season.

Pucksters Have Roller Coaster Season

This year's Cougar hockey team, lead by senior captain Doug Taylor, and seniors Dan Keran, Jeff Dexter, Matt Jamieson, and juniors Don Best, Pete Lundstrom, and Mike Jennrich, took on the challenging '84-85 season.

In their first game our Pucksters lost a tough one to Tartan 4-3 in overtime. The following night they rebounded against Minneapolis Edison 8-3. Because the team consisted of many talented athletes, who met the challenge of the tough City Conference, they played very well. This year Coach John Brodrick taught the players about hockey as well as teaching them about themselves as individuals. Thus, a very successful season was met as a team and as an individual.

Farley And Kissner Co-Captain Team

Gymnastics is an individual sport. In order to have a successful team, each member must perform at her highest ability. She must devote her mind and body to the sport.

The seven returning letter winners, along with the new members, proved that it's the quality, not the quantity, that counts. Dawn Eilts, Laura Behrends, Sandy Zappa, and Tami Paray were the four Senior gymnasts who predominately carried the team to its victories. Barb Farley and Deanna Kissner are two other outstanding gymnasts who will be leading the team next year.

Young Team Competes In Tough Conference

Basketball is a fast game played for 32 minutes which requires excellent endurance and coordination. The girls' basketball team started practice sessions one week after the close of the fall sports season with daily three hour practices which focused on conditioning. The girls were lead by third-year varsity coach Brian Wold, junior varsity coach Jack Moynagh, and sole-returning senior, Captain Ruth Henke. The young team, consisting of two seniors and six juniors, went into the season with high hopes. It had a very busy schedule with games twice a week and several scrimmages throughout the winter months. Although the team's record did not reflect growth, many personal team records were broken in high scoring and points scored.

The offense was lead by two year varsity guard Lori Struntz, last year's All Conference forward Miriam Neely, and the team's high scorer, Nancy Walstrom. The team's defense relied heavily on strong rebounders, Pam McCoy, Kim Krogmann, and Julie Kruschwitz.

Swedish Bjorn Lindberg Captains Team.

With Fun And Spirit!

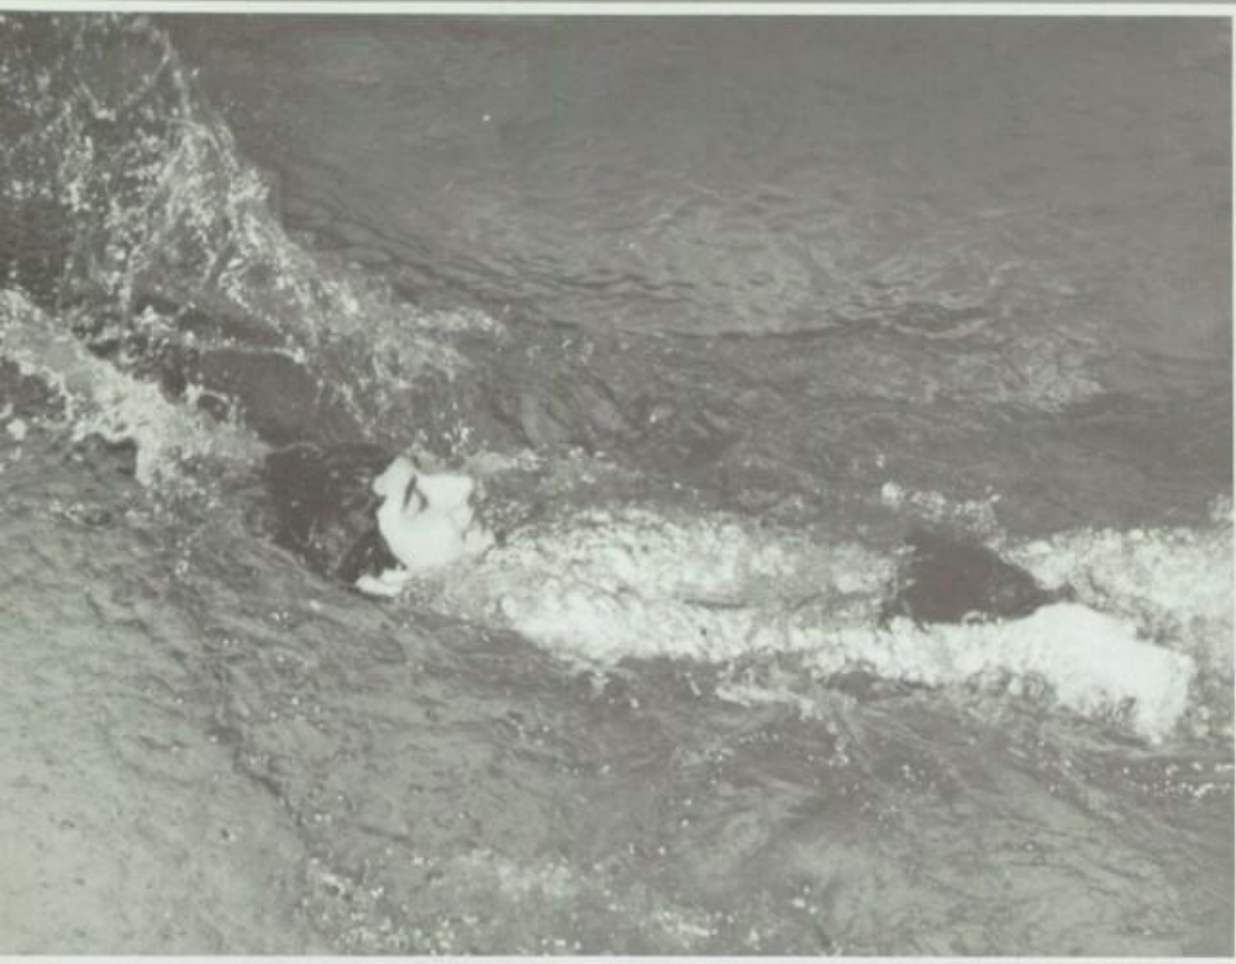

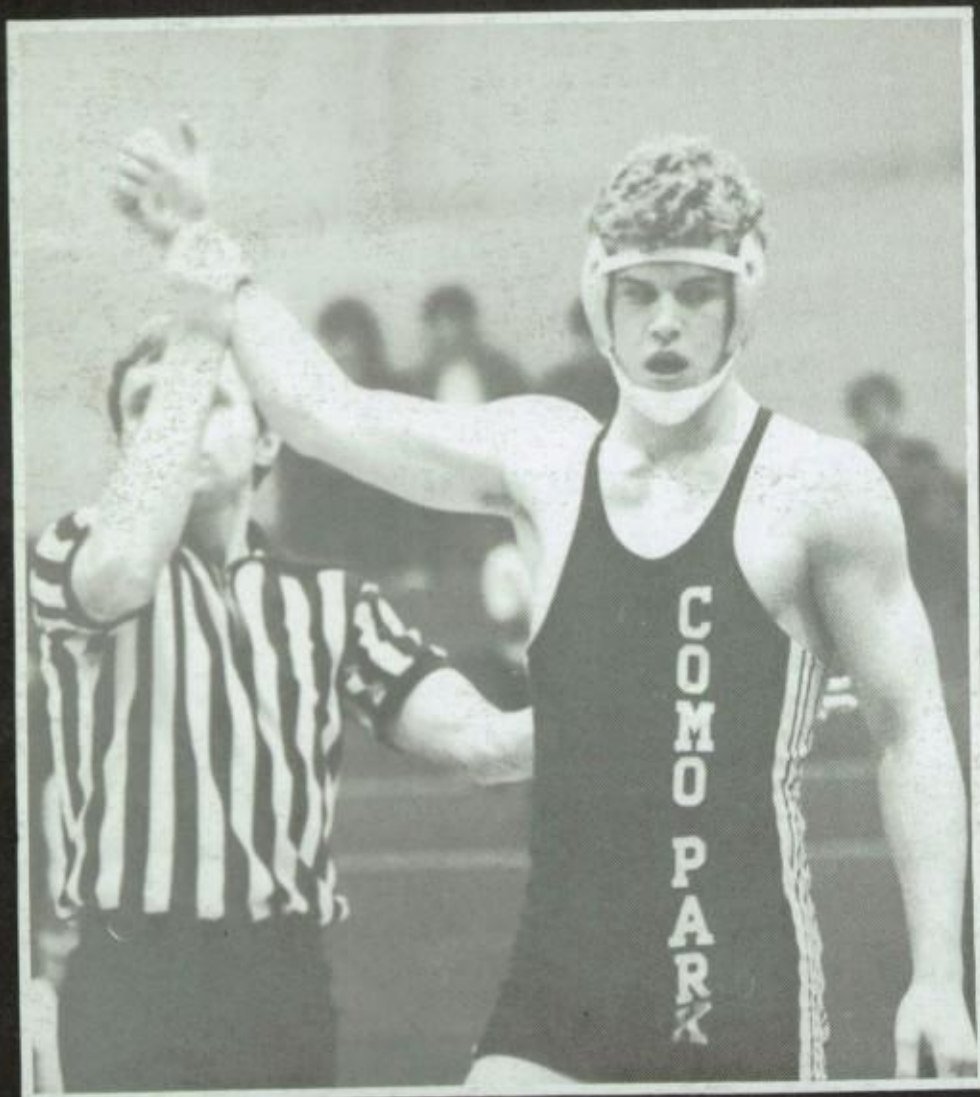

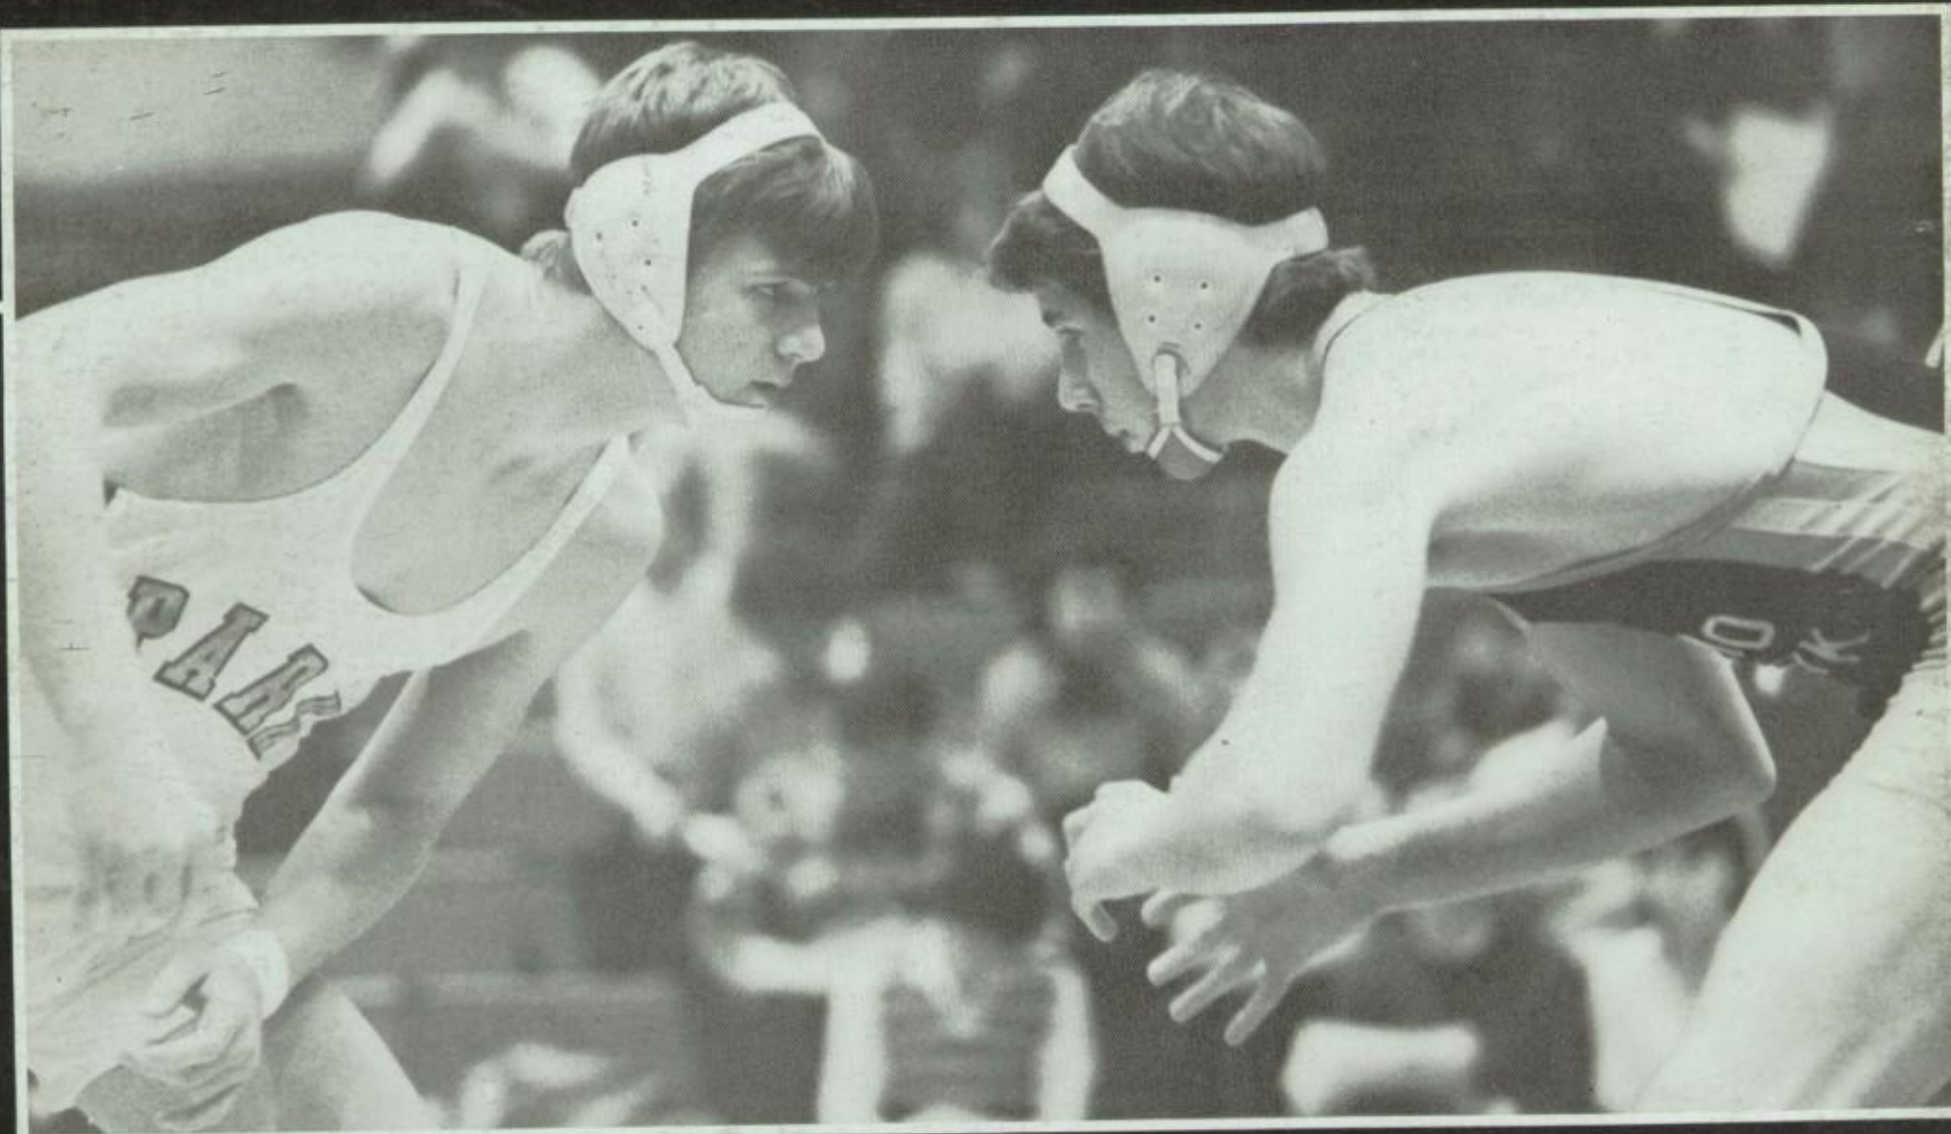

Although the boys' swim team of Como Park consisted of only 9 swimmers, surprisingly enough, two were foreign exchange students. Bjorn Lindberg and Ali Firuzi enjoyed feeling out American competition on the team.

Bjorn Lindberg, proud to be the team captain, formerly swam on a team in Sweden and claimed it's no different there than here in the USA. He said that he has always been a swimmer and excels in the breast stroke. When asked how he felt about the team this year, he stated, "They have good spirit, but the team is mainly made up of freshmen. Maybe next year it will be better."

One of the major problems faced by the team was the lack of swimmers. With only eight swimmers and one diver, there was no way to fill up the lanes at any given meet. Nevertheless, the guys concentrated on getting into great shape and perfecting their strokes. In this way they were preparing for next year's season in hopes of attracting and recruiting more people for the team.

This is your cue, Como guys. Let's hit the water!

Winning Is The Name

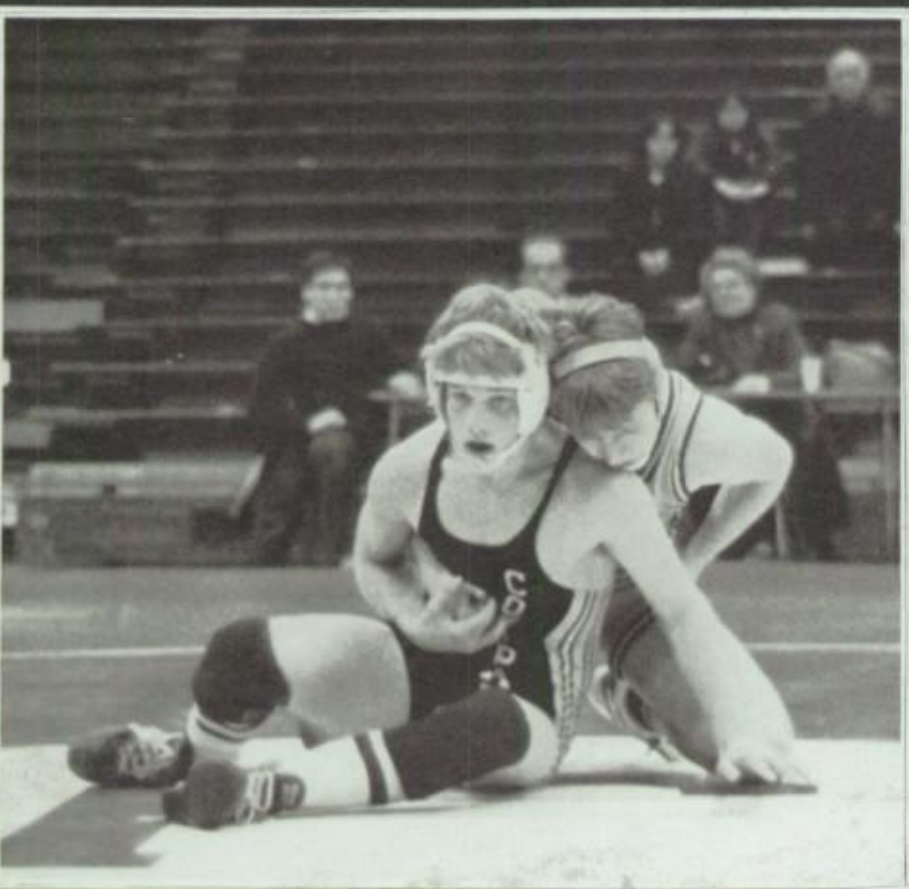

The 1984-85 wrestling team proved once again to be one of the most successful athletic programs at Como Park. The team has never in the school's history lost to five teams in the conference.

Although the team was very young, consisting mostly of sophomores and juniors, senior captains Willy Ulrich and Jim Llanas lead the way. All wrestlers contributed, and there were strong individual showings from Kurt Walstrom, Mike Searles, and Dave Anderson.

Wrestlers by far are extremely disciplined and dedicated. They are the ones you might see not eating lunch because of their strict diets, or are the ones who go home early because they have to get up very early the next day for a tournament. Just proof of what a wrestler goes through to strive to be a champion.

Wayne Hopkins and Greg Petrie are considered to be two of the finest coaches in the region. They held grueling 3 hour practices everyday after school, even some on Saturdays. They believe by working the men hard they would be champions! The records speak for themselves.

Rah! Rah!!

You see the cheerleaders, at all sports events, yelling and raising spirit. It looks like a lot of fun, but few people appreciate the work that is involved in cheerleading.

In August of 1984 the Como cheerleaders spent three hard-working days at a National Cheerleading Association camp. They learned new cheers and jumps and how to perfect their own old ones. They returned from camp with a coveted award — the NCA Spirit Stick. This award is given to squads with the most spirit, enthusiasm, and determination.

Hit a Birdie, Sink a Birdie

The Cougar golfers, lead by juniors Mike Kelsey, Dave Larson, Mark Koenig, and Matt Rein and freshman Matt Tester, looked forward to a winning season. Head coach Roger Hennessey felt the young team would finish high in the City Conference.

The Girl's Badminton team practiced diligently every day, hoping to top last year's 4 and 6 season. Coach Gary Whipple remarked that although the team is young and inexperienced, it works hard to win.

Sluggers Take The Field

Storming through the tough city conference was a very hard task for the 1985 Como Park varsity baseball team. With only five returning lettermen, lead by senior captain Richard Weyandt, the team's inexperience played a crucial role in the team's drive for a city title. The baseballers still made their presence known, however, in one of the toughest conferences in the state.

The Top . . .

The Varsity Softball team officially opened its conference season on April 23 with fourteen enthusiastic players. The first weeks involved conditioning and improving the basic skills needed to be a sharp ball club. William Niemczyk, Como's very own English teacher, took over the job of head coach last year and is very enthusiastic about his new position. The Softball team was led by returning veterans Bonnie Finken, Shelli Johnson, Erika Oberfrank, Tracy Pelzer, Lori Struntz, Shannon Tschida, and Nancy Walstrom. Shannon Tschida and Erika Oberfrank led the pitching staff.

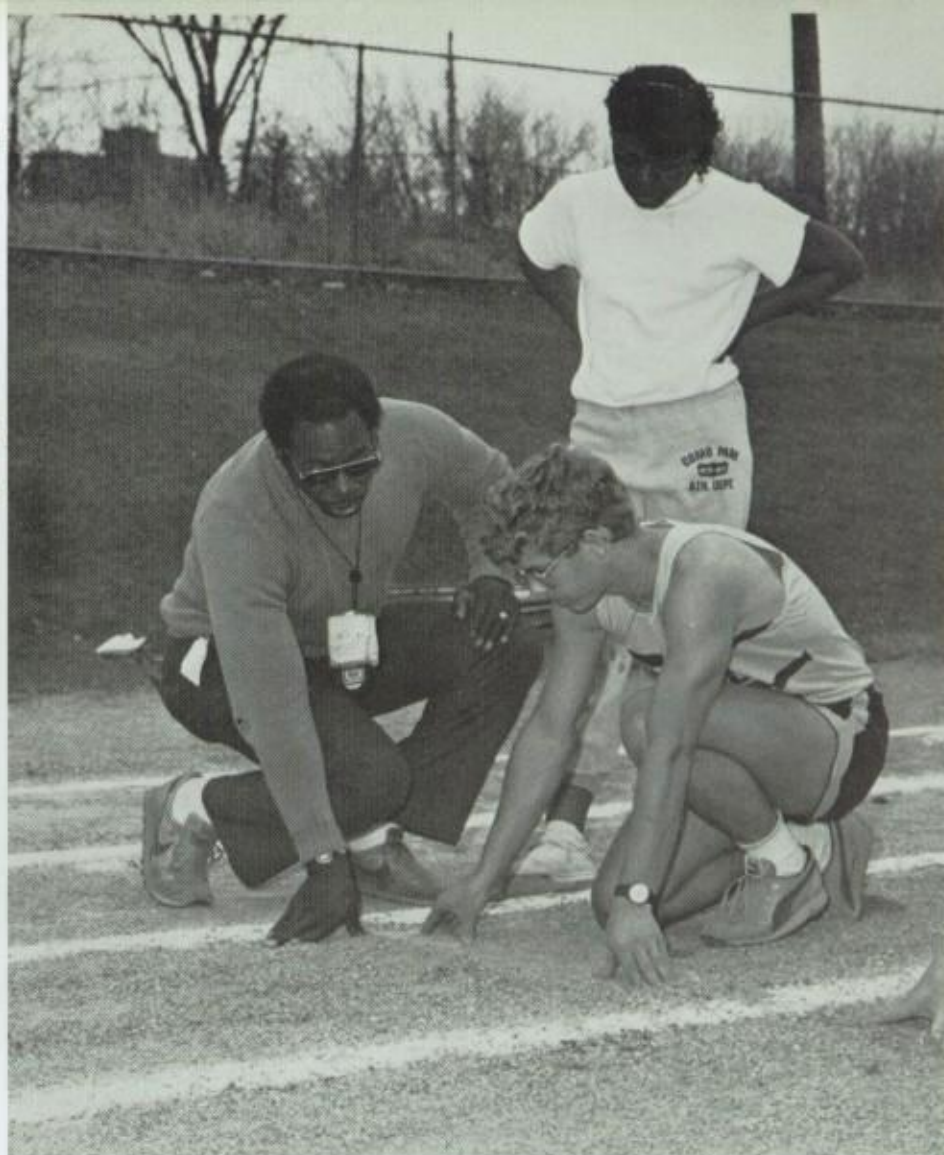

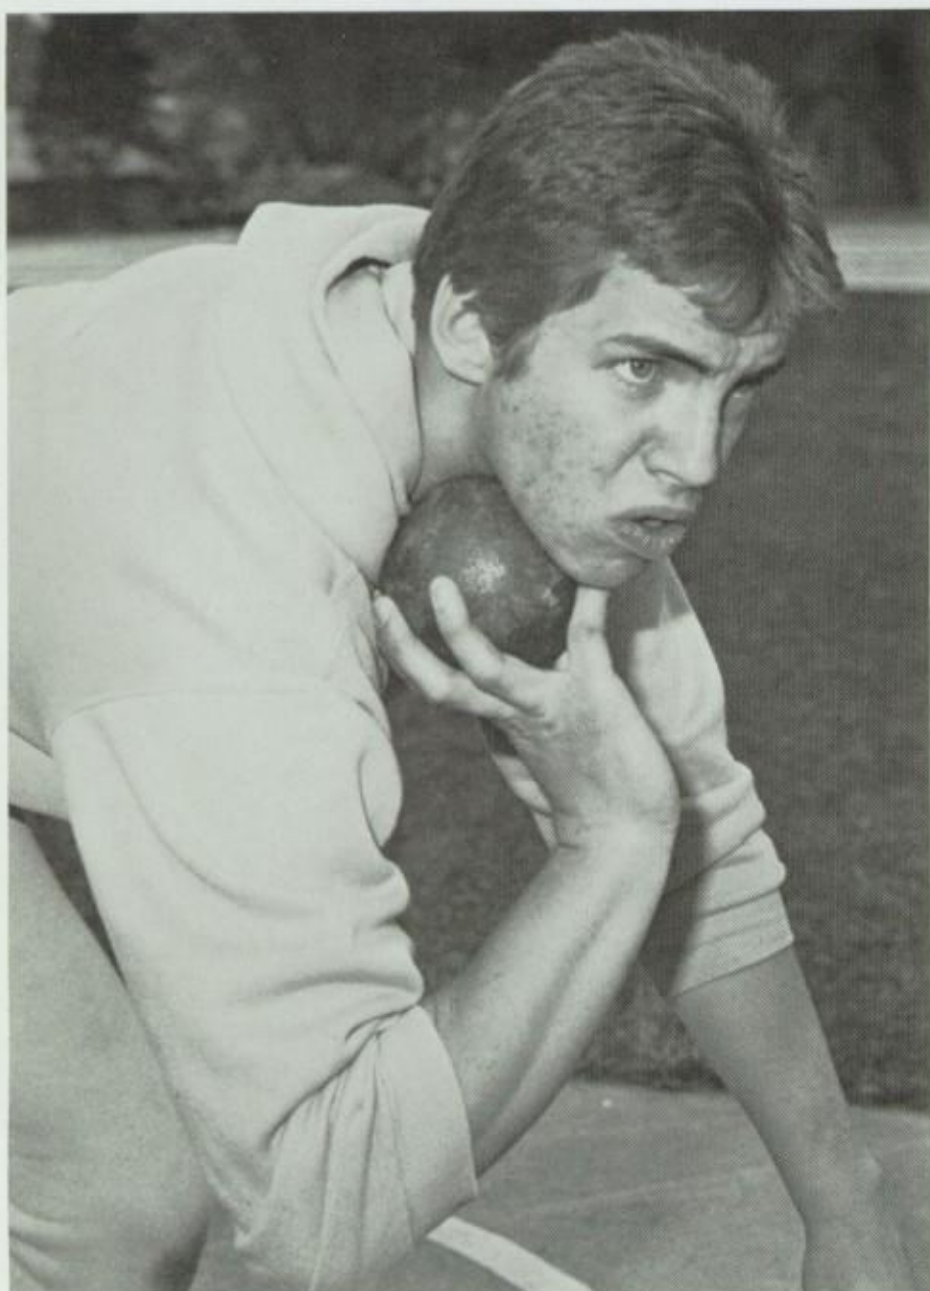

This year the girls have high expectations of becoming one of the top teams in the City Conference. Captain Tracy Pelzer feels the team is capable of being the best.

Runners, On Mark!

This year's co-ed track team started out with a magnificent show of its talent at the Twin Cities Indoor Meet at the U. of M. Field House. Claver Williams, state champion in the 60 meter dash, took first place, along with Aaron Larson, in the high hurdles. Also the 400 meter relay team consisting of Tonya Frelix, Pam McCoy, Chreese Williams and Claver Williams took first place. Making strong shows were Richard Johnson in the 1600 meter run and John Zupfer in the shot-put.

"The track team," according to Mr. Marvin Rouse, head coach, "has a lot of talent and will show much potential in the next few years." Assisting Mr. Rouse were Mrs. Paula Gerke, Wendy Garr, Mr. Steveken, who coaches the weight team, and Mr. Roy Magnuson who works with the distance team.

Cougar Aces

As the snow melted off the courts, the boys' tennis team pulled out their rackets instead of their shovels. The team warmed up with several pre-season matches, followed by a tough conference schedule. The loss of three top players was quickly covered by returning veterans Paul Bossi, Peter Warner, Mike Steilow, Dan Spohr, and juniors Andy Groven, Hieu Nguyen, and Chinh Huynh. Newcoming seniors Ali Firouzi, Bob Groven, and Eli Wallace, along with several rookie underclassmen, kept competition running high among teammates. Fourth year coach Kathy Dumas kept spirits running high.

Revenge of the Donkeys

Donkey Basketball? You got it. On April 19, Como played host to the world's craziest sport. Contestants rode live donkeys and attempted to play basketball.

In the first game the senior team defeated the faculty team. In the second game our "Coaches" defeated the Junior class by a score of 14-6, which then led to a championship game between the Seniors and the "Coaches." In sudden death overtime, Chreese Williams made a fantastic shot that is destined to become the most memorable in Como's history. The seniors were victorious.

All who participated and who watched had a great time. The Senior Class sponsored activity was successful due to the response of the student body and parents. Everyone laughed and had a good time.

The Wizard"

"Somewhere Over the Rainbow," "We're Off to See The Wizard," and "Ding Dong, the Witch is Dead," were just a few of the songs which colored the musical "The Wizard of Oz," starring the Chamber and Concert Choirs, and directed by Miss Marge Rusch.

The choirs put on an excellent performance, starring Pam Johnson as Dorothy, Rob Woulfe as Scarecrow, Terry Caraway as Lion, and Carlos Montez as Tinman and many other talented members who made the show a memorable one. The choirs had two months to perfect their performances; and to delighted audiences, the performances were done on May 16 and 17.

An Evening of One Acts

On March 21 and 22 the Como Park Drama Club presented "An Evening of One Acts," four one act plays performed by a cast of 15 students.

"Impromptu," by Tad Mosel, was about four actors who find themselves on a stage having to improvise a play and learning about themselves as they do it. The cast consisted of Rob Woulfe as Earnest, Joan Heininger as Winifred, K.C. Somdahl as Lora, and Chuck McKissick as Tony.

"The Happy Journey to Trenton and Camden," by Thornton Wilder, is just what its title suggest. It follows the Kirby's journey to see their married daughter. Ma Kirby was played by Shelia Anderson, Pa Kirby by Len Gallick, Arthur Kirby by Kevin Klaus, Caroline Kirby by K.C. Somdahl, Beulah by Tracie Loeffler, and the Stage Manager by Rob Woulfe.

"Sorry Wrong Number," by Lucille Fletcher, is about Mrs. Stevenson, an old woman who overhears two men planning a murder over the phone and her final realization that it's her own. Kim Krogmann played Mrs. Stevenson; the rest of the club filled in as extras.

"The Ugly Duckling," by A.A. Milne, was a lighthearted play about a princess who was considered plain by her parents. In their attempts to marry her off, they had the maid, Dulcebella, pose as her. But the princess meets her to-be-husband, the prince, (who is also under the guise of a servant), and he sees her as she truly is, beautiful. The King was Rob Woulfe; The Queen, Bridget Farley; The Princess Camilla, K.C. Somdahl; the maid Dulcibella, Joan Heininger; the Chancellor, Len Gallick; the Prince, Steve Cuneo; and Carlo, Terry Caraway.

The plays were directed by Richard Jacobsen and were well received by the audiences.

You're The Inspiration

Over 100 couples attended this year's Junior-Senior Prom, which was held at St. Paul's Town Square Gardens on April 13th. The Junior class hosted the Prom, "You're The Inspiration," and music was provided by "The Little Big Band." Many thanks to the Junior class for all of its hard work and help in making the Prom another success.

Spring Break '85

Spring Break! It's not just for college students. Nineteen seniors from Como spent their break in the lands of sunshine: eight in Florida, and eleven in Hawaii, on the annual Senior Class trip.

The seven senior guys spent their week on the beaches of Daytona, and enjoyed the sights of Orlando, which included Disneyworld.

The eleven seniors who went to Hawaii surfed, sailed, and visited many tourist attractions, the most famous of which was Pearl Harbor.

All nineteen students returned to Minnesota with great memories and fantastic tans.

The Staff Rolled the "Good Times"

In compiling this edition of the Puma, we, as a staff, encountered numerous obstacles ...deadlines, money shortages and "untaken" photographs. The hard-working staff overcame these and produced an outstanding book, representing the pastimes, interests, and activities of you, the student body. We will never forget "As I live and breathe," "Ditchin'," and editor pictures. Special thanks to Matt for all the work on the index, the seniors who helped the inexperienced members, and to everyone else involved. Without our dedicated staff, this book could not have been possible.

This space is saved
for the "Fly."

Well hay, hay, hay,
to the fly talking
to the north star.
Thanks for saving
this space for me.
You caught me at
a bad time because
I can't think of
a damn thing to say.
Maybe it's because you are standing
right behind me.
Now I thought of something to say. It's a little piece of advice
I gave to Spudthumper. This is something I learned from Beany Hill.
My son I tell you, never assume anything,
this is because you make an
ass out of you and me.
